Britain Would Rush to Defend Any Empire Area

Chamberlain Says Dominions Have Own Decision on War

Answers Question

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain would rush to defend any section of the British Empire attacked by a foreign nation, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

The Prime Minister said he was sure he was interpreting the wishes of the people of Great Britain in this regard. He added that the constitutional position was that each self-governing country in the Empire is free to decide what contribution it would make if another part of the Empire were attacked.

Mr. Chamberlain spoke in reply to a question from Arthur Henderson, Labor.

Fuel Out of Commodity Law

Dilemma of Two Rulings Will Be Removed

In a bill before the Legislature the government is removing from the Commodities Retail Sales Act all products covered by the Fuel Control Act and the Marketing Act.

The commodities law provides, among other things, that a retailer cannot sell a standard product below the price fixed by the manufacturer. Thus, it might be construed that gasoline retailers were prevented by law from reducing the price of gasoline, as ordered by the government, unless the wholesalers said so.

Since the government fixed only the retail price of gasoline and did not actually order the wholesalers to reduce their prices, retailers would be caught between the two laws, one saying they must reduce, the other saying they could not sell below the price set by the manufacturers.

As the gas price law is now before the courts and will not be settled before the amendment to the Commodities Act becomes law, the situation will be avoided.

ADmits PLAN TO HOLD UP BANK

VANCOUVER (CP)—John G. Hill, 30, pleaded guilty in police court here today to illegal possession of firearms and admitted his intention to hold up a bank. He was remanded till tomorrow for sentence.

"Pay in tens or twenties. I'll give you 10 seconds or you will get shot," was written on a cheque blank submitted by police as evidence against Hill.

He said he intended handing the note through a teller's cage, but had not decided which bank he would hold up.

Police arrested Hill Saturday after allegedly finding a sawed-off shotgun in his downtown room and waiting several hours for his return.

Hill said he had worked at Britannia Beach, B.C., a mining town on the shore of Howe Sound 40 miles north of here, for four years and came to Vancouver recently.

Roosevelt In Call To Democracies

This Continent's Course Influences History for Centuries to Come

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Correspondent
CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — President Roosevelt served notice on the south and the United States at large today he would go forward with a "Liberal" program of government despite New Deal election reverses.

Addressing a university of North Carolina student forum, he also declared what America does or fails to do in the next few years "has a far greater bearing and influence on the history of the human race for centuries to come than most of us who are here today can ever conceive."

In an implied warning to dictators, he asserted the United States was "not only the largest and most powerful democracy in the whole world, but many other democracies look to us for leadership that world democracy may survive."

QUOTES JUDGE
The President adopted as his theme a contention by the late Supreme Court Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, that "we live in a world of change, hence there can be no constancy in law."

"I am speaking not of the external policies of the United States," Mr. Roosevelt said. "They are exerted on the side of peace and they are exerted more strongly than ever before toward the self-preservation of democracies through the assurance of peace."

Japanese Attack Near Indo-China

Warships Shell Pakhoi, China, Only 70 Miles From French Area

SHANGHAI (AP)—Chinese reports declared Japanese warships massed in the Gulf of Tongking Monday were shelling Pakhoi, 70 miles east of the French Indo-China border, possibly presaging a new Japanese landing in south China.

Invasion of Kwangsi province, lying between Canton and the French colony, is expected by Chinese military authorities, who believe the Japanese thus will attempt to outflank China's defense forces.

Pakhoi is 125 miles south of Nanning, capital of Kwangsi, and is that province's rail outlet to the sea.

Severe fighting occurred today in the West River region, which is expected to be the route of an overland attack on Kwangsi, northwest from Canton.

The first important city along that route is Wuchow, just within the Kwangsi border.

Chinese authorities ordered the evacuation of Pakhoi and nearby Lachow in expectation of a Japanese landing and rushed reinforcements to defend the area.

OIL INQUIRY IN ALBERTA DELAYED

Commission Adjourns For Week to Allow Study of Books

CALGARY (CP) — Adjournment of one week was granted today as the McGillivray Royal Commission investigating the Alberta oil industry resumed sessions here.

Necessity of recasting books of the Royalite Oil Company with a view to allocating charges in connection with operation of the pipeline from Turney Valley oil field, 45 miles southwest of Calgary, led to the adjournment.

Mr. Justice A. A. McGillivray, chairman of the commission constituted by himself and Major L. R. Lipsett of Ardley, Alta., regretted the delay and informed counsel the commission would proceed next Monday.

The commission, appointed October 11, is investigating the price structure of fuel oils and its scope has been enlarged to include consideration of advisability of the government taking over operation of oil and gas fields.

Cabinet Changes May Be Made at Ottawa This Week

Postmaster-General Needed If Elliott Among New Senators

Choices for Legations

OTTAWA (CP) — Long expected cabinet changes and other appointments may be effected at the three cabinet meetings Prime Minister King has scheduled for this week. It was unofficially reported today one change would be the elevation to the Senate of Hon. J. C. Elliott, Postmaster-General.

HON. J. C. ELLIOTT

There are seven Senate vacancies. The Postmaster-General fell ill early this year and has not been able to attend to his duties since, but it is understood he is much improved.

Speculation over Mr. Elliott's successor has prominently mentioned Ross W. Gray, Liberal member for West Lambton, Ont., and chief government whip in the Commons, Lieut.-Col. W. P. Mulock, K.C., member for North York, Ont., and Arthur G. Slaght, K.C., Parry Sound, Ont.

Other appointments which the government is expected to deal with soon include the three vacant legations in Tokyo, Paris and Brussels. Mr. King intimated some time ago he expected to fill these vacancies before Christmas.

The Cabinet will sit tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday. In addition to the appointments the government will be occupied with preparations for Parliament, which is called to open January 12, arrangements for the visit next May of the King and Queen and the Dominion's policy on the refugee problem.

French Luxury Liners Still Held Strike-bound

Factories Near Normal After Strike, But Le Havre Workers Out

Daladier Target

PARIS (AP) — Owners of factories closed since the general strike last Wednesday took back thousands of employees at the government's suggestion today, but the French Line strike at Le Havre still tied up the giant Normandie and other liners.

A government spokesman said all factories involved in the general strike, which Premier Daladier crushed, would be functioning normally by Thursday.

Despite a government order putting them under military control, approximately 1,500 of the Normandie's crew, 2,000 workers on the liners Paris and Ile de France, and 1,500 dock workers and port handlers refused to work at Le Havre.

Leaders of Le Havre movement predicted they would accomplish what the general strike failed to do, and bring about the collapse of the Daladier government, against whose decree tax laws labor is fighting.

STOCKYARDS IN CHICAGO REOPEN

Strike Ends With C.I.O. Union Signing Peace Agreement

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 600 stock handlers returned to work in Chicago stockyard pens today, ending a strike which had tied up the nation's largest meat animal market for two weeks.

Striking members of the Stockhandlers' Local No. 567, a Congress for Industrial Organization affiliate, who quit work November 21, gave final acceptance yesterday to a peace proposal submitted by the Union Stockyards and Transit Company.

O. T. Henkle, general manager, said he had advised commission men normal operating forces would be on hand for the three shifts at the yard today.

The company submitted its proposal to the union through Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

Forum Would Be Big Aid to City

"I am wholeheartedly in favor of the plan to build a Forum in Victoria," said W. B. Monteith, prominent Victoria businessman, today.

"With this city attempting to establish itself as a tourist centre I realize the handicap under which Victoria suffers through being unable to offer a suitable building for the holding of conventions, concerts and other forms of entertainment which necessitate large seating accommodation," Mr. Monteith said.

Construction of a Forum would also give athletes of Victoria a better chance to develop and bring additional honors to this city, he said.

France Will Yield No Colonial Area

Daladier's Answer to Italian Campaign Is Backed By All Parties

PARIS (AP) — Premier Daladier asserted today France has no intention of giving up any part of her territory, personally answering Italian clamor for Corsica and Tunis.

Earlier, in a communique, he announced his intention of visiting the two regions early in the New Year.

He urged the inhabitants, who have been demonstrating against the Italian campaign, to remain calm.

"There is no need to state that these manifestations (in Italy) will meet strong opposition against the cession of any territory over which the national flag floats," the Premier declared.

CLEAR ANSWER

Demonstrations of loyalty in Tunis and Corsica, M. Daladier said, were "the best response that could be made" to Italy's demands. He added a protest made by France had won a declaration from the Italian government that demonstrators for colonial claims had not been formulated by the government.

His statement was regarded as significant in view of preparations here to receive Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister, coming to Paris tomorrow to sign a French-German no-war accord.

Premier Daladier did not limit his remarks to Italy's newly raised demands. He declared France's resolution to demand respect for "the absolute integrity" of all French territory by "every means."

Both French and Germans agree the war-renunciation pact, similar to the declaration signed by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Chancellor Hitler at Munich September 30, would be only the starting point for further negotiations between Paris and Berlin.

A report Von Ribbentrop would act as mediator between Rome and Paris already was mooted about Paris, but the question everywhere was "at what price?"

LINKED UP

Premier Daladier's Radical Socialist Party newspaper, L'Oeuvre, referred to the fact Von Ribbentrop's visit to Paris coincided with Italian agitation for French Tunis and Corsica and said flatly: "It is a trap."

It was indicated the French believed Premier Mussolini would call a halt to agitation for Tunis if the French would recognize Spanish insurgent General Franco as head of a belligerent government. Officials hinted France would not offer such a price.

All political parties were united on a refusal to give either Germany or Italy one scrap of "our colonies."

Few Covered By Tax Plug Plan

But B.C. Measure Is New Weapon Against Undistributed Profits

While business leaders expressed fears today that the government's new attempt to plug a loophole in its surtax law meant a heavy new tax on business the government renewed its assurance that the levy would apply against comparatively few corporations.

It was explained the new levy is simply a weapon in the taxation law to prevent evasions of the surtax by closely-held companies that pile up unnecessarily large surpluses to avoid payment of the surtax.

It will also combat a plan adopted by some companies of turning their shares over to holding companies to avoid distribution of profits on which taxes are payable.

For years the treasury has had power to force taxation of undistributed gains, by the simple expedient of assuming that the profits have been distributed and taxing the shareholders accordingly. This law, however, can be circumvented by the holding company system, so in its proposed new law the government takes power to tax the undistributed profits at their source in the parent company.

It does not affect reserves for depreciation, bad debts and the like. The treasury already has control over these.

CITY LAND SALES CONTINUE HIGHER

Increase of Approximately 50 Per Cent in Cash Receipts Shown

Cash receipts from the city lands department for the first 11 months of this year stand over 50 per cent above those for the similar period of 1937, according to figures announced today by the department.

At November 30 last the city had received aggregate receipts of $81,522.53 from property sales and rentals against $53,731.62 at the same date last year.

Last month's total returns continued the upward trend in the receipts from that source, the figure being $85,668 against the 1937 month total of $4,637.00.

During this year to date 101 parcels of land have been sold and eight exchanges made to bring in an aggregate $44,133.76. For the same months last year sales amounted to 66 and exchanges 5, with a total value of $33,568.08.

In the majority of deals this year sales have also called for construction of dwellings, further broadening the basis of taxation on real property.

Italy to Make Further Demands On France Soon

Campaign for Tunisia Grows Louder; Nature Of Claims Unstated

Outcry in Press

ROME (AP) — Virginio Gaydo, who frequently is spokesman for Premier Mussolini, indicated today Italy would make demands on France at some future date.

The Fascist editor did not disclose precisely what the demands would be or when they would be made.

The Italian campaign for Tunisia, meanwhile, gained momentum with Fascist warnings to France that she was "playing with fire" by permitting anti-Italian demonstrations such as those of yesterday in Tunisia and Corsica.

Gayda indignantly denied that Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, had been forced to back down in talks with the Earl of Perth and Andre Francois-Poncet, the British and French ambassadors at Rome.

"He posed a problem," Gayda wrote in the newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia. "He will follow it up at the proper time with that energy which is his."

REICH'S POSITION

Gayda disputed French suggestions that Germany, about to sign a new no-war agreement with France, would refrain from supporting the Italian demands.

"The French reactions," Gayda said, "are in vain . . . Italy and Germany, which have common destinies, are marching together . . . with resolute will as well as enlightened spirit of responsibility."

Afternoon papers stepped up the tempo of their clamor, mentioning Tunisia, Corsica and Djibouti as territories that might be ceded to Italy to right matters and denouncing alleged French misrule in Tunis.

It was stated Djibouti would be valuable as a natural port for a great part of Ethiopia.

"The port is completely useless in French hands," the newspaper Il Popolo di Roma said, "in view of the fact Italy can create a new port and divert through it all traffic which now passes through Djibouti."

Djibouti is the coastal terminal in French Somaliland of the railroad to Addis Ababa, capital of Italian Ethiopia.

TERRORISM ALLEGED

"The newspaper Il Piccolo's front page headlines said: 'Natural aspirations of the Italian people and blind intransigence of Paris—regime of terror against Italians in Tunis—Concentration camps around fortified areas—Another Maginot line on the Libyan frontier—Jewish Italian subjects in service of the French—Intolerable situation.'"

Both Il Piccolo and Il Tevere quoted from an article on the situation in the Palermo newspaper L'Ora saying France anti-Italian policy in Tunis "has achieved beastial and unsupportable harshness."

QUAKERS GOING TO PLEAD WITH NAZIS

Trio From Pennsylvania To Approach Hitler On Behalf of Jews

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A trio of Pennsylvania Quakers, members of a sect characterized by traits of peace-loving and neighborly affection, were bound for Germany today to plead with high Nazis, perhaps even Chancellor Hitler, on behalf of Jews and other persecuted minorities.

The group is headed by a 75-year-old college professor who helped feed destitute Germans after the Great War.

The delegation consists of Dr. Rufus M. Jones, Haverford College philosophy professor; D. Robert Yarnall, Philadelphia manufacturer, and George A. Walton, principal of a Friends' school at Newton Square, Pa.

Dr. Jones said the mission hoped "to see Chancellor Hitler himself" and take up "the whole problem of caring for the Jews in Germany and the problem of emigration."

NO LIQUOR GUARDS ON ONTARIO ISLAND

Manitoulin Loses
Provincial Police;
No R.C.M.P. Men There

LITTLE CURRENT, Ont. (CP)—Manitoulin Island, as "wet" as it cares to be, looked back today on its first week-end period since pre-war days when no liquor control law was effective.

Beer and liquor were sold in some hotels and restaurants and a few gay spirits celebrated by openly drinking from bottles on downtown streets.

Mayor Harold Hembruff of Little Current said the situation had become worse since Attorney General Gordon Conant's announcement Friday that the Liquor Control Act of Ontario would no longer be enforced on this island in Georgian Bay and that it was up to the Dominion Government to enforce the Canada Temperance Act.

Mr. Conant's statement meant that local option laws on the island would not be enforced by the Ontario provincial police. The Attorney-General pointed out the courts had decided the Canada Temperance Act was in force and therefore it was up to the Dominion to do the policing.

Over a period of several years in which liquor law jurisdiction has been in dispute, beer has been sold more or less openly in some Manitoulin hotels.

"No one but the bootleggers will be pleased by Attorney-General Conant's announcement," said Mayor Hembruff. "The liquor situation has been bad on Manitoulin, but now it will be worse."

The Mayor said there was not one Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer stationed on the island to enforce the Canada Temperance Act, which forbids all sale of beer, wine and liquor.

Nazis to Expel Polish Jewesses

Wives of Men Already Driven From Reich
Going, Says Report

BERLIN (AP)—A report that Jewish women of Polish origin had been ordered to leave Germany by January 1 was the latest indication today that the anti-Semitic campaign would be widened. The report originated in Warsaw and could not be confirmed here, but a government spokesman said "it is not impossible."

It was understood in Warsaw that those who had been ordered to leave were wives of Polish Jewish citizens expelled from Germany in October, when the Nazi government feared new Polish passport regulations might deprive them of citizenship and leave them as German charges.

The Jewish relief committee in Warsaw estimated the number expelled at 14,000. Some of them still are at border stations unable to move in either direction, and without any indication what their future is to be.

Jewish informants here said they feared many of the Polish Jewish women were in Germany without passports, since passports were turned over to Polish consulates for revalidation under the new Polish law and might not have been returned.

German Jews themselves awaited more decrees restricting their participation in German life. Decrees will become effective tomorrow barring them from certain streets and public places.

VANCOUVER (CP)—George Henry Tom, one of Vancouver's pioneer educationists and president of Monarch Securities Limited, died in a hospital Sunday. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

Mr. Tom was born in Usborne Township, Ont., in 1863, and came to this city in 1888. He was appointed vice-principal of the Central School shortly after his arrival. Later he held the principalships of Strathcona and Alexandra Schools and retired from teaching in 1932. He became president of Monarch Securities Limited after his retirement from teaching.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning, and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose, get from MacDonal's and Vancouver drug stores, or any drugist, a package of Hem-Roid, and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hem-Roid is a physician's prescription, and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it opens the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Corsicans Swear Loyalty to France

Appeal for Calm Made
As People Protest
Italian Claims

AJACCIO, Corsica (AP)—The Mayor of Ajaccio appealed to the populace today to remain calm after anti-Italian demonstrations last night in the streets of Ajaccio, Bastia and other Corsican cities.

Organizations of all types held hurried meetings throughout the Mediterranean island and sent telegrams of loyalty to France to Premier Edouard Daladier's government.

A police guard posted around the Italian consulate was doubled this morning when many thousands of Corsicans surrounded the consulate chanting "Long live Corsica! Mussolini to the gallows!"

Corsica has been mentioned by authoritative Italians, along with Tunis and Djibouti, as territory Italy should have. French sovereignty over the island, just north of Italian Sardinia, was obtained from the Republic of Genoa, May 15, 1768.

British Prevented Blasts in Hankow

LONDON (CP-Havas)—The act of British forces in Hankow in severing fuses laid to dynamite charges in Japanese buildings after the Chinese evacuation of the city was justified on humanitarian grounds, Richard Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the House of Commons today.

Adrian Moreing, Conservative, had asked whether the Prime Minister was aware that after the Chinese had retreated from Hankow British bluejackets were sent to cut wires and remove explosives laid down by the Chinese in Japanese buildings.

AIR BASE SOUGHT FOR NELSON AREA

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A committee of the Nelson Board of Trade considered a proposal today for arousing nation-wide interest in the need for a Royal Canadian Air Force base in the Kootenay district of interior British Columbia.

The committee was appointed to study desirability of an air force base in the district and to lay plans before the board after an address by W. J. E. Biker at a luncheon meeting Thursday. In his address Mr. Biker warned the huge Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company plant at Trail and the West Kootenay Power and Light Company plants along the Kootenay River were both vulnerable to air attacks from the coast.

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Provisions of the Anglo-Italian accord of April 16, dealing with maintenance of the status quo in the Mediterranean covered French-owned Corsica, Tunisia and Nice, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

Cheers greeted the Prime Minister when he declared:

"Nothing in the Anglo-Italian agreement of April 16 affects in any way our obligations toward France, and while Tunisia, Corsica and Nice are not specifically mentioned in the negotiations prior to that agreement, they are covered by annex one of the agreement, which deals with the maintenance of the status quo in the Mediterranean."

Balance Seen in Trade Treaties

Bank of Montreal
Head Says Canada
Gains as Well as U.S.

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's co-operation in the new trade pact between Great Britain and the United States was given without sacrifices, but now it is hoped advantages gained by the Dominion under the Canada-U.S. Treaty will offset the added competition for Canadian manufacturers, Sir Charles Gordon declared today in his presidential address at the annual meeting of the bank of Montreal.

"The situation has been a peculiar one for Canada," he said, "inasmuch as it has provided the most dramatic demonstration yet given to Canada's position as the natural liaison between Great Britain and the United States."

Sir Charles felt the prospect of Canada contributing to Great Britain's armament requirements was among the more immediate factors destined to stimulate certain Canadian manufacturing industries, while he regarded as a wise measure establishment of a guaranteed price for wheat this year.

"Let us relegate our parochial squabbles to their rightfully subordinate place," he said, "and, as a nation, face with a united front the great era to which the finger of destiny so unmistakably is pointing."

MINING GAINS

During the past year business in Canada had not been unsatisfactory in view of conditions prevailing in other countries, Sir Charles said. Most of the industries had maintained a fair production rate, with marked activity in mining contributing in increasingly important measure to the welfare of many subsidiary enterprises.

Crops were good, with the west enjoying its greatest wheat harvest since 1932 and, while fish markets continued depressed, Atlantic and Pacific sea fisheries had yielded good catches.

Owing to curtailed export demand, the forest industries had a difficult year, but Sir Charles noted with satisfaction there had been no recurrence of cut-throat newspaper-producing competition and, he felt, the newspaper outlook was more hopeful for the coming year.

CHICAGO (AP)—Pickets paraded around the Hearst Building here today after the executive board of the Chicago Newspaper Guild had called a strike of editorial and commercial department employees of the Morning Herald and Examiner and the Chicago Evening American.

Both papers published today, the Examiner appearing as usual and the American's first edition coming out after a revision of press times.

A statement by the management said "these two newspapers will be printed and distributed as usual."

Don Stevens, executive secretary, said the strike was "called after members of the Hearst unit of the Guild had voted 137 to 65 to support the board. The unit had empowered the board to call a strike last Thursday."

PLANE CONTRACT COMES TO CANADA

MONTREAL (CP)—The

British Air Ministry has awarded the Canadian Car and Foundry Company a contract for construction of first line airplanes, according to a statement by Victor M. Drury, company president, who returned yesterday from a trip to England.

The contract is independent of anything the company may receive through Canadian Associated Aircraft Limited, the organization of plane manufacturers formed for manufacture of bombing planes for the British government.

While Mr. Drury said the amount of the contract and the type of planes to be constructed could not be disclosed, he declared the order would enable the company's plant at Fort William eventually to employ about 500 men and keep them at work during the next two years. There was every reason to expect further contracts if this one was carried out satisfactorily.

The company head said the terms of the contract prevented him from discussing details of the order.

CZECH MINISTER IN LONDON QUILTS

LONDON (AP)—The Czechoslovak legation here today announced Jan Masaryk had resigned as minister after 14 years' service in the London legation both as chancellor and as minister.

The resignation is effective January 1 when Mr. Masaryk, 52, son of the late Thomas Masaryk, Czechoslovakia's first President, will sail for the United States for a private visit. On his return from America, the legation spokesman said, Mr. Masaryk intends to live in England "for the time being."

It was known Mr. Masaryk had wished to resign ever since he failed to obtain British support for Czechoslovakia to resist German demands last September for cession of Sudetenland.

Three-cornered Polls Contest in Scotland

LONDON (CP-Havas) — Prime Minister Chamberlain yesterday appealed to voters of the Kinross division of West Perthshire to elect the Conservative candidate, W. Macnair Snadden, in the forthcoming three-cornered election for the House of Commons seat formerly held by the Duchess of Atholl.

The Duchess resigned as a protest against the government's foreign policy. A former Conservative, she is running for re-election as an independent on an anti-Chamberlain platform and is opposed by Mr. Snadden, a Liberal candidate, Mrs. C. A. Macdonald.

Death Investigated In Vancouver

REVELSTOKE, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia police today were investigating the death of 40-year-old John Rabicki, whose body was found Saturday night in a midtown shack.

Police said they believed Rabicki had been struck over the head with an axe handle which was found lying across the body.

Officers said preliminary investigation revealed Rabicki had been carrying a considerable amount of money with him during the past week. His empty wallet was on the bed and the man's watch was missing when police entered the shack Saturday night.

Everything looks bright for the rapid development and expansion of the program through the entire province in order that the benefits may be made available to all," he stated.

Substitute for Insulin Tested

University of Manchester
Research Workers Use
Extracts of Cabbage

By GUY RHOADES
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 LONDON — Two University of Manchester research workers have obtained encouraging results in experiments designed to find a substitute for insulin in diabetes treatment to eliminate danger of "insulin shock" and to give by mouth instead of injection.

A. D. Macdonald, professor of pharmacology at the university, and Dr. L. Wislicki have described in the Journal of Physiology a series of experiments in which they used extracts of cabbage to control the blood-sugar concentration of animals.

Control of blood-sugar concentration in the modern diabetes treatment discovered by Sir Frederick Banting, Dr. J. R. MacLeod and Dr. C. H. Best of Toronto is effected through injections of insulin derived from the pancreas of oxen.

Prof. Macdonald and Dr. Wislicki worked with two separate cabbage extracts. With the first they raised the blood-sugar concentration of normal rabbits so rapidly some died of diabetes in six hours.

Then they administered a second extract which had the effect of reducing the concentration in accordance with the size of the doses. They found the second extract equally effective whether injected or administered orally, and noted it caused no diglycaemic convulsions such as occur in insulin shock from large doses.

Next they experimented with a dog whose pancreas they had removed. Depancratization of the animal without corrective treatment caused its blood-sugar concentration to mount rapidly and they kept the dog alive initially with insulin treatment.

Then they gradually cut down the insulin injection and substituted cabbage extract until they were able to discontinue the insulin treatment entirely, controlling the blood-sugar concentration with the vegetable extract alone.

New Journalism Prizes for Americas

Pulitzer School Announces
Steps to Strengthen
Links of Continents

NEW YORK (CP) — Carl W. Ackerman, dean of the Columbia University Pulitzer Graduate School of Journalism, announced yesterday the award beginning next year of two to five annual prizes in journalism aimed at building up sympathetic understanding among the peoples of south, central and north America.

To be known as the Maria Moors Cabot prizes, the awards will be the first of their kind on an international scale in the western hemisphere and will be bestowed on the same broad scale as the Pulitzer prizes.

The donor of the awards is Dr. Godfrey L. Cabot, Boston philanthropist. Each prize will consist of a bronze plaque to be given to the winning newspaper, press service or syndicate, and a gold medal for the individual most responsible for the editorial, news article or policy recognized as a public service.

A gift of $1,000 will accompany the award so the individual or a representative of the winning organization may come to the university to receive it from Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia, at a public convocation.

NEW TYPE OF WARSHIP POWER

High-pressure Super-heat
Boilers for U.S. Battleships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military circles heard today that the United States navy's general board had endorsed new-type engineering equipment which figured in a long-smouldering controversy over warship designs and construction delays.

An official report to Navy Secretary Swanson this week recommended use of high-pressure, super-heat boilers in the navy's six new 35,000-ton battleships, among other craft.

Some officers had criticized the equipment as experimental and unproved, and a factor in construction flaws and delays which have plagued the navy since 1933. The general board decided, informed persons said, the new-type power plants were more efficient and economical than other designs and gave the warships added cruising range.

BRITAIN AIMS AT AIR SUPREMACY

Empire Faces Uphill Fight
With Foreign Competition

By DEVON FRANCIS
 Associated Press Aviation Editor
 NEW YORK — If Great Britain is bent on attaining commercial supremacy in the air, as announced in London, the Empire faces an uphill fight fraught with international politics and complicated by the demands of rearmament.

Capt. Harold Balfour, Undersecretary for Air, declared Sir Kingsley Wood, Secretary for Air, was aiming at "world supremacy for British aviation."

Domination of the world trade routes flown by the big commercial airlines, which has precipitated a six-way derby among European and United States air transport companies, is associated intimately with considerations of national defence.

Where commercial airplanes blaze air trails and establish bases, military planes can follow. Most striking example of international anxiety to build strong commercial air fleets for rapid communication is the work the Netherlands government has done on its line to the Dutch East Indies.

Great Britain is fourth among the world powers in the mileage of its international air routes. Ahead of her are United States, France and Germany, in that order.

Russian Actress On Trial in Paris

La Plevitskia Fights
For Freedom; Russian
Ex-Generals Vanished

PARIS (AP) — "La Plevitskia," fiery actress of Czarist Russia, today began a court fight for freedom although the "mystery" of the vanished White Russian generals in which she played a leading role remains unsolved. The middle-aged actress is accused of complicity with her vanished husband, General Nicholas Skobline, in kidnapping another White Russian general, Eugene de Miller, who disappeared September 22, 1937.

La Plevitskia denies the charge, which brought to French courts a case with a theme of espionage and counter-espionage rivalling thriller fiction.

When he dropped from sight, De Miller was head of the emigre veterans of the old imperial Russian army. His predecessor, General Alexandre Koutepoff, likewise vanished in 1930.

De Miller left one clue, however — a hastily penned scrap of paper saying he had a rendezvous on the night of his disappearance with Skobline, his aide and a mysterious German "military attaché."

"Perhaps it is a trap..." De Miller wrote cryptically.

When police sought Skobline for questioning the next day, he too, had vanished.

RAIDS BY POLICE

De Miller's wife accused Soviet secret police of spiriting away her husband and said Skobline was a Soviet agent. Among the places raided by detectives investigating the case was a house rented by the Soviet embassy in Paris.

Hunt for clues has continued 14 months. All that time La Plevitskia, arrested when her story failed to satisfy police, has remained in prison protesting her innocence and planning her defence.

Meanwhile, the leaderless White Russian "army" has sought a successor to De Miller as head of the 25,000 former soldiers scattered throughout the world.

A warrant is out for the arrest of Skobline, and 80 witnesses have been called to testify at the trial of his wife, widely known as a dramatic concert singer under the old regime.

Ready to defy the prosecutor to link her with the Czarist mystery, La Plevitskia told her jailer bitterly the French police "are only chasing phantoms."

Growing Dangers Seen in Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — The Ulster Anti-partition Council sent Prime Minister Chamberlain, Prime Minister King, Prime Minister Lyons of Australia and President Roosevelt a warning yesterday that the North Ireland situation was "fraught with grave dangers."

The council, which wishes to see the six northern counties joined with Eire, said recent border explosions showed "there exists a disciplined and numerous body of men ready to risk their lives to protest against the partition evil."

Winter Campaign Planned in Spain

Government Forces
Preparing for Big Attack
In Cold Weather

By ROBERT OKIN
 Associated Press Foreign Staff
 BARCELONA — The Spanish government is preparing with seasoned troops and co-ordinated aerial defences to carry on the third and perhaps most important winter campaign of the civil war.

The lines at present are approximately the same as in early summer. There are three likely sectors for the attack: The eastern front between Lerida and Tremp; the Levante front from the Mediterranean coast to Teruel, and the central front from Guadalajara, north of Madrid, to Aranjuez on the south.

There is every conviction winter will not halt the offensive. The government thrust by which the Teruel insurgent base was captured in snow and bitter cold last year, and this third winter will find the troops even better accustomed to bad weather operations. (The insurgents subsequently retook Teruel.)

Increased efficiency in the government's aerial defences has become apparent in the past two weeks, with insurgent bombers systematically attacking in an effort to maintain an aerial blockade for government ports and frontiers.

The government met this with increased emphasis on pursuit planes, co-ordinating them with anti-aircraft artillery. Searchlight squads have improved in spotting the nocturnal raiders.

FRANCO'S PREDICTION

BURGOS, Spain (AP) — General Franco yesterday coupled a prediction of a quick insurgent victory in the Spanish civil war with a declaration the new Spain would adopt an aggressive foreign policy.

The general told of his plans in an interview given on his 46th birthday in his villa. With an insurgent victory, he said justice would be accorded all in Spain and added the belief that most of the government forces would associate themselves in a United Spain.

BIG NEW PAPER MILL IN TEXAS

Plant Will Use
Southern Pine In Making Newsprint

LUFKIN, Texas (AP) — E. L. Kurth, president of the Southland Paper Mills Incorporated, announced at the week-end that construction would be started early next year on a $6,000,000 newsprint plant here.

Kurth said that within a year the new plant would be converting southern pine into 50,000 tons of newsprint annually. This is only about 2 per cent of United States imports.

Southern newspaper publishers subscribed to $29,900 in stock and contracted to absorb the plant's entire output for five years at prices paid Canadian mills. The publishers agreed to pay Canadian prices to insure profitable operation of the Texas plant.

Publishers said they expected a newly discovered process of converting southern pine into newsprint eventually will lower prices and break the monopoly which Canada, Sweden and Finland have long enjoyed.

The process to be used was discovered by the late Dr. Charles Holmes Herty, famous Savannah chemist.

Lower Rail Fares Likely In East

NEW YORK — A permanently lower railroad passenger fare scale in eastern United States looms as a result of a number of developments. The east at present has a higher level of passenger tariffs than any other section of the country, charging 2½ cents a mile in coaches and 3 cents in pullman cars.

Factors which are expected to bring about a drop in fares from present maximum include: low round trip rates being offered for world's fair travelers, cuts being allowed for Christmas holiday travel, desire of southeastern roads for a low round-trip through-rate and opinion among some rail men that present rate is too high.

Transport Merger Report In Britain

ordinated into one vast utility company.

Sir John Reith, chairman of Imperial Airways, the newspaper said, would become head of the merger involving a capital of $1,250,000,000 ($6,250,000,000).

The Chronicle said one reason for the co-ordination was the government's campaign to bolster national defence and that another was to eliminate price-cutting competition between railroad services.

This Business of Appeasing

TOMORROW IN PARIS HERR JOACHIM von Ribbentrop, Germany's Foreign Minister, will discuss with Premier Daladier a French-German no-war accord. If this shall be signed by the representatives of the two governments concerned, it no doubt will be pinned to the other pact which Prime Minister Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer Hitler signed on behalf of Great Britain and the Third Reich at Munich.

To Premier Daladier's Radical Socialist party newspaper, L'Oeuvre, however, tomorrow's business in Paris looks a little "fishy" in its coincidence with Italy's agitation for French Tunis, Corsica, and Nice. This daily says flatly: "It is a trap." Today in the British House of Commons, by the way, Prime Minister Chamberlain spoke as follows: "Nothing in the Anglo-Italian agreement of April 16 affects in any way our obligations toward France, and while Tunisia, Corsica, and Nice are not specifically mentioned in the negotiations prior to that agreement, they are covered" by that part of it "which deals with the maintenance of the status quo in the Mediterranean."

Mr. Chamberlain also said that the British ambassador in Rome had been instructed to tell Italian Foreign Minister Count Ciano that recent "incidents" against France would tend to have a detrimental effect on the prospects of collaboration between the four Munich powers. But from Ciano's reply "it is clear that the Italian government do not associate themselves with the demonstration, and have no intention of departing from the undertakings they have already given us." On that account the Prime Minister "can see no reason to alter the arrangements" for his visit to Rome next month.

When Mr. Chamberlain so gleefully dissociates the Italian government from the recent demands by the Chamber of Deputies, and by Mussolini's journalistic mouthpiece Signor Gayda, in connection with French territory he automatically raises the inquiry as to why, if these "developments" were not inspired by the inner council of the ministry, and consequently might be supposed to be embarrassing to it, there is no suggestion of admission for those responsible. We hazarded the guess the other day in these columns that it was a new application of the old dodge of kite-flying—this time to see how the French political wind was blowing. France gave a quick answer. It was an emphatic "No." Premier Daladier has repeated it today. After what took place during the week-end in the various territories involved it was comparatively simple, of course, for the French Prime Minister to emphasize the official decision. It also helped Mr. Chamberlain to repeat his belief in his "appeasing" formula.

The value of the Anglo-German accord and the proposed French-German no-war pact will be assessed by the progress of events. Premier Daladier naturally is gratified that the Italian demands for French possessions came at a time when his domestic troubles appeared to be getting out of hand. Rome united French opinion when it was most necessary—an achievement which appeared to be eluding the authorities in the French capital. And as Mr. Chamberlain is quite satisfied with Count Ciano's word that there really was nothing in the Chamber of Deputies' little joke last week, matters may proceed more smoothly, or, at least, until Hitler turns over another page of "Mein Kampf."

Sterling and Politics

TO THE AVERAGE MORTAL WHO GETS a fairly accurate idea of his bank balance when he puts his hand in his pocket the flight of sterling from Great Britain to the United States, and, in a lesser degree, to such continental European countries as Switzerland and the Netherlands, means little more than just another item of news which upsets neither his mental nor his physical balance. To the money changers and those who move in the higher brackets of finance and commerce, however, this migration of capital and the substantial weakening of "the pound" in dollar value expose to the gaze of the uninitiated one of the effects on business which the famous "Peace of Munich" seems to have had.

Bankers and financial experts in New York now are openly speculating on the effects which Great Britain's program of rearmament may have upon her monetary position. Her competitors in this race to build bigger and better fighting equipment are, of course, the totalitarian states, which have demonstrated that they can finance this type of business by inflationary processes without difficulty. But in a country with a free exchange such as Britain, the process of borrowing large sums for arms, on the one hand, or of greatly increasing taxes, on the other, is bound to lead to speculative attacks upon the currency, flight of capital, and fears and discussions of the dangers of inflation. It is considered significant that the latest acute phase of sterling's fall seems to date from November 7, the day on which the assassination of the third secretary of the German Embassy in Paris unleashed the latest excesses in Nazi Germany. It was on that day, moreover, that the Chamberlain government sustained a devastating defeat in the Dart-ford division of Kent, a contest fought out exclusively on Britain's foreign policy. That verdict furnished striking proof of growing impatience with the Prime Minister's "appeasement" claims—further apprehension of the ultimate sequel to the Munich betrayal.

While the underlying cause of the pound's present acute weakness is regarded by most bankers, therefore, as rooted in the political situation, the downward movement of the exchange has been speeded by strong rumors of plans for a lower dollar-sterling rate in connection with the recently-signed trade treaty between the United Kingdom, Canada, and the United States. Prior to the announcement of the terms of the agreement it was widely rumored that the pact would include an understanding for a sterling-dollar rate of $4.50. While this proved in the event without foundation there persists abroad a rumor that the United States is likely to approve a cheaper pound. This, too, finds support largely in the political situation. It is argued that under what is termed "the present condition of diminished British prestige" the United States would be more disposed to agree to a lower exchange value for the pound, so as to aid Britain in rebuilding her trade, than the neighboring republic might have been willing to agree even up to a short time ago.

How far-reaching may be the effects of this new pressure on sterling will depend upon whether the existing trend turns out to be a long-term affair, or merely a temporary matter. Britain's pound has been backed more by the prestige and power of the British Empire, the greatest trading entity in the world, than it has by gold. That was strikingly proved after 1931 when, even though Britain had lost virtually all her gold the pound was able, after the first shock of abandoning the gold standard, to rally. Now Britain has far more gold, even after her recent heavy losses, than she had in 1931 or at any time prior to that. But it is apparently not gold that will decide the issue but rather the developments in world politics over the next few months.

Canada's Major Problem

PREMIER BRACKEN EMPHASIZED BEFORE the Rowell Commission at one of its concluding sessions at Ottawa that the guaranteed price for wheat does not mean that the prairie farmer is receiving 80 cents a bushel. After paying freight and handling charges and deductions on account of grade, the net return to the farmer runs between 50 and 60 cents. However, without the guarantee, what the farmer could expect would be very much lower.

Under such unhealthy conditions, Mr. Bracken says it is necessary to examine prospects for the wheat economy with a view to planning for the future. If higher prices cannot be obtained by reopening European markets to Canadian wheat, if a continuing guarantee cannot be assured for future years, if producing countries will not co-operate in restricting the world wheat production, then western Canada will have to face a new era of economy, reduce the burden of its debt charges and cut down its production. This, as Mr. Bracken warns, will have serious consequences for all Canada. It will produce larger railway deficits, increase the cost of farm relief, and require the absorption of large numbers of farmers in industry.

These facts present fundamental problems upon the solution of which hangs our economic future.

One Gain For 1938

WHAT THIS AGE NEEDS SO FAR AS the women are concerned is a pair of hose that will not run. However, science has been at work on the problem. If advance publicity is to be relied upon, there is a possibility of early achievement in this direction. We learn that stockings soon will be more sheer, more elastic and stronger than the best silk, rayon or cotton now available. The new fibre is made of coal, air, water and chemicals. Dyeing presents no difficulty for this synthetic product. Altogether the product is hailed as a great step forward.

This news may sound too good to be true. It is backed up, however, by the announcement of a textile firm that it is investing $8,000,000 in a plant on the Atlantic coast, where it will soon be employing 1,000 persons in manufacturing the new product. Should the hose be as good as promised, one definite gain may be marked up for the year 1938.

Those ladies who requested an old shirt from Prime Minister Chamberlain for a patchwork quilt should remember the Prime Minister is not a bad patchworker himself.

WEIRD WAR STORY

From Portland Oregonian
An oddity in war news wafts in from Shanghai, but there must be a catch in it somewhere, for it does seem too good to be true. The story is that Japanese have information of the military training by Chinese of several thousand orang-outangs, who are reported to be excellent throwers of hand grenades. Presumably this is intended, by Japanese sources, to illustrate the depravity of the enemy.

But any means of war, however novel, may be embraced by any government so soon as the nature of it is revealed. The Japanese are fully at liberty to train a death battalion of great apes for their own forces. The human armies might then retire and leave the orang-outangs to fight it out. The flaw in the plan is evident, however. Although the ape-kind are reputed to be inferior in intelligence to man, they have far too much sense for this.

An interesting people, the Japanese. The odds are that a great many of them will earnestly believe the story of those grenade-throwing orang-outangs. Such men make excellent soldiers, up to a certain point, because they never question what they are told by their officers. The world is waiting to see what happens beyond that certain point.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

JASMINE

THIS LAST WEEK across the Bay has been hard on everybody, especially hard on those who have had to write it down for the information of the public. What outcries of human passion, what hours of sitting in hot, stuffy rooms, what barren stretches of legislation, what sudden flares of temper and what protests, what suspense and what boredom!

And how little the public appreciates the labor and the agony of its lawmakers at work! You only stay home, and condemn them when, every night, you should get down on your knees and offer up thanks that you are spared all this labor, that your lawmakers, disregarding the Hours of Work Act, are laboring now far into the night, all for your good. But you won't. You will say they are wasting their time and your money. Hell hath no fury like an ignorant taxpayer.

But what I started out to say was that, as usual, it is like emerging from a stifling room into the outer air to come back from the Parliament Buildings at the week-end to the green countryside. And it seems, somehow, that the sight outside my window yonder as I write this sums up, explains, and makes some sense of the whole business.

Outside my window there, against the chimney, the old jasmine bush has suddenly burst into bloom, all unnoticed—shot out tiny yellow stars that hang suspended far from the wall, as if floating in the air. Bravest of all flowers, defying season and calendar, as if they were determined to be ablom at Christmas time, these little stars, in humble imitation of a great star which shone at this season long ago.

Many curious things have been going on in the mad society of men yonder. In the great outside world, Hitlers and Mussolinis and marching armies and scheming diplomats, and wars and famines. In our little local world across the Bay, wild men squeaking and gibbering into outer darkness of oblivion—bridge charges, public utilities, taxation changes, all the dull paraphernalia of government in a modern state.

While we have been plunged in this hubbub, excited by it, alarmed by it, thinking it important in our lives, the jasmine hasn't been worrying in the least, hasn't paid the slightest attention, has gone ahead steadily with the business in hand, and through all our turmoil and shouting it has been quite happy and now blooms, in the very winter of our discontent, at the very nadir and deepest gloom of the year, just as if the world were sane, just as if everything were going along all right despite the Hitlers, Mussolinis, legislatures, laws, economics.

The jasmine has no sense, of course, no brain, no imagination. But between it and politics, between the jasmine and the great brains yonder, I have no difficulty in making a choice.

The jasmine is the true builder and creator, because it works unconsciously and knows its job, whereas in politics and most of the affairs of men we are working consciously and not by instinct. We are not creating. We are merely manufacturing.

Manufacture is intelligible but trivial. Creation is great and cannot be understood. Thus if the Debater and Demonstrator, whom we may rank as the lowest of true thinkers, knows what he had done and how he did it, the artist, whom we rank as the highest, knows not; must speak of inspiration and in one or the other dialect, call his work the gift of a divinity.

Generally speaking, the most ineffectual of all characters is your dialectic man-at-arms; were he armed cap-a-pie in syllogistic mail of proof and perfect master of logic-fence, how little does it avail him! The healthy understanding is not the logical, argumentative but the intuitive, for the end of understanding is not to prove and find reasons, but to know and believe. Our thinking is but the mere upper surface that we shape into articulate thoughts; underneath the region of argument and conscious discourse, lies the region of meditation; here in its quite mysterious depths dwells what vital force is in us.

This sounds pretty screwy to you, no doubt, and you wonder what it has to do with the business in hand. Nothing, particularly, but it shows you the difference between a jasmine and a politician, and all those thundering sentences in the paragraph ahead of this are pretty good stuff, though you don't appreciate it. They are lifted bodily from Carlyle's essay on "Characteristics," which you probably never heard of, and seem to fit the jasmine and the politicians pretty well.

OH! WEEP FOR THOSE

From Lord Byron's "Hebrew Melodies"
Oh! weep for those that wept by Babel's stream,
Whose shrines are desolate, whose land a dream;
Weep for the harp of Judah's broken shell;
Mourn—where their God hath dwelt the goddess dwell!
And where shall Israel lave her bleeding feet?
And when shall Zion's songs again seem sweet?
And Judah's melody once more rejoice
The hearts that leap'd before its heavenly voice?
Tribes of the wandering foot and weary breast,
How shall ye flee away and be at rest!
The wild dove hath her nest, the fox his cave,
Mankind their country—Israel but the grave!

PEPPY'S FRIEND

From Time
Readers of the diary of Samuel Pepys know the intimate scenes that pop out so unexpectedly among the humdrum entries on office work and financial difficulties—such passages as Pepys' account of his shame-faced spying on his wife Elizabeth when he thought she was too friendly with her dancing teacher, his love affair with Mrs. Bagwell after he had got her husband a job, with pert Betty after he had married her off to simple Mr. Martin, his adventures with Doll Lane, Jane Welsh, Elizabeth Whittle, Frances Tooker and various maids who were briefly employed in the Pepys household.

But not so many readers know that Pepys' famed diary has never been published in an unexpurgated version. For the last eight years, in the Pepys Library at Magdalene College, Cambridge, Librarian Francis McDougall Charleswood Turner has been making a new transcript of the six volumes of the Pepys diaries, including the "indelicate" passages which previous editors left out. Not content with the protection of his cryptic shorthand when he confided his amours to his diary, Pepys added further screens by making up a pidgin language of French, Spanish and Latin, with toy words and a freakish kind of jural baby talk.

But although Librarian Turner transcribed such passages, Pepys' secrets are still reasonably safe 270 years after the night Mrs. Pepys caught him with the charming Deb Willet. Talking things over with publishers and college authorities, Librarian Turner decided that the new edition, too, should be expurgated. After studying Pepys for eight years, his "admiration for the man has grown into something very like affection." For Librarian Turner, publishing Pepys' secrets would be like betraying the confidences of an intimate friend.

ALKALIN AND ACID-FORMING FOODS

From Toronto Star
There are groups of foods which unite in the process of digestion to give a chemically alkaline condition and other foods which produce chemical acidity. An alkalin ratio of approximately four to one makes a satisfactory diet combination, according to dietitians. The following foods are alkalin forming: Honey; all fruits, fresh and dried except large prunes, plums and cranberries; all vegetables, fresh and dehydrated, except legumes (dried peas, beans and lentils); rhubarb; all forms of milk, buttermilk, sour milk, cottage cheese; starchy foods in combination with fruits or proteins are acid combinations. The following foods are acid-forming: All high protein foods, white sugar and syrups made from sugar; beef, pork, mutton, sausage, lamb, veal, ham, chicken, turkey, duck, goose, guinea hen, game; oysters, clams, lobsters, all fish; beef hearts, brains, kidney, liver, sweetbread, pig hearts; egg white (yolks are not acid-forming); peanuts, walnuts, pecans, filberts, coconut; dried beans, dried peas, lentils; beef fat, pork fat, bacon, fish oils, lard, tallow; all cereal grains and other products such as bread, breakfast foods, etc.; large prunes, plums, cranberries and rhubarb.

PANACEA: HAM AND EGGS

From Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser
People who are full of ham and eggs don't want a war, and if all people could be assured that for the next generation their ham-and-egg supply would be adequate, they would not tolerate a politician who sought to provoke a war. Economic security is the first concern of mankind. Political justice is a close second.

MACKEREL MYSTERY

From Winnipeg Tribune
Fishermen off the eastern coast of the United States report that the mackerel in those waters are behaving very strangely. Under ordinary circumstances at this time of year, the mackerel head south for the winter. But this year they don't want to leave. More than that, according to the fishermen, they are staying close inshore.
It is reported that the government is about to send down expert piscatologists to investigate the phenomenon. But a political commentator already seems to have hit upon a possible explanation. He advances the theory that the mackerel are waiting for the red herring which have done such excellent service in the political campaigning just closed.

NOT ALARMED

To the Editor:—H. H. Wilcox of Newtonville, Mass., and of the Uplands, Victoria, writes to say he feels he haven't enough ferry boats to get off the island quick enough when the Japs come to take it over. I want to say there will be lots of room on the present ferry service, as we are not all going to leave because Japan wants to come here. If Japan wants Vancouver Island, she will have to fight for it, but I don't think we will ever see that happen. So don't get alarmed.
M. ARCHER.

Prophecy Now on Mass-Production Basis

WORDS AS DYNAMITE

A FAMOUS French astrologer has released his annual batch of predictions, chief of which is that the European powers will go on jockeying for position for the next year.

Is there anything to all this? Obviously, the vast majority of the people still believe there is, because teacup reading is practiced on a semi-professional basis in nearly every town in Canada, not to mention the rest of the world. And teacup reading is but one of a dozen forms of prophecy now popular.

World events have done much to put the pastime of fortune-telling on a mass production basis. Some of the most obviously striking books in the Bible are full of mysterious and hair-raising prophecies. From the days of Wycliffe till now these prophecies, and their interpretations—often ridiculous—have induced people to do all sorts of things which they otherwise would not have done. For instance, the first crusade was launched partly because some agitators of the day convinced people that the year 1000 was to be the beginning of the age of peace so clearly predicted by all the biblical prophets. The popular reaction was to go to war in the Holy Land. John Knox wrote letters from Switzerland inciting the people to murder Bloody Queen Mary and her supporters—justifying his astounding action by his interpretation of some of the chapters of Revelation.

In this century the evangelical churches have taught their people for many years that the Roman Empire was certain to be recreated. I myself, many years before the war, heard teachers tell of the coming rise of ten dictators and how the first Roman Empire and the second Roman Empire would both get a new lease of life. Mussolini always has described his state as a modern Roman Empire. On September 10, 1938, Hitler restored to the city of Nuremberg, the spiritual capital of the Nazi movement, the ancient crown jewels of the Holy Roman Empire, which were smuggled out of that city at the approach of Napoleon's army. Godly evangelical people, whom I knew so well as a boy, have found tremendous significance in that fact.

PROPHETS CONFOUNDED

IF THERE IS no fury like a woman scorned, there is no ingenuity like a prophet confounded by events. One school of prophecy which numbers its adherents by millions, had written scores of books about the accession of Edward VIII as being almost equivalent to rule by the Almighty. It has completely ignored what it formerly taught. On May 28, 1928, Colonel MacKendrick, great spokesman for the Anglo-Israelites in Canada, sat in the editor's office in the old Toronto Globe and declared, with all the assurance in the world, that before midnight that night some momentous event would occur; like the beginning or ending of the war. When absolutely nothing happened, was the doughty colonel abashed? Not on your life! He went home to get ready to write another book on the Great Pyramid.

Long before the Great War I read the book called "The Lost Ten Tribes" by Rev. Dr. Wild. It was the modern beginning for the great wave of literature purporting to prove that the English-speaking nations are the ten tribes of Israel, and hence the people chosen by the Almighty to bring order and peace to the world as a whole. I was fascinated by the idea. It fitted in so absolutely with my own hopes and ideals for the world. Then after the war, and the great collapse and retreat which followed the peace, I began to revise my point of view. I discovered in some of the biographical material about Kaiser Wilhelm that he, too, knew all about the "Lost Ten Tribes" theory. He was 100 per cent convinced that the Germans were the chosen people and that he was the battlemate of the Almighty. In other words, the crazy policies which led the world to absolute disaster were partly the result of the very prophecy now so popular in another form.

I came to the conclusion that the world would be better to forget all about these schools of prophecy and get right down to bedrock by trying to apply the plain teachings of the Nazarene whose words were so crystal clear that they need no fortune teller to interpret them, or misinterpret them.

There are no chosen people. Crazy cults of racial superiority lead inevitably to what is going on in Germany today—namely, bestial persecution of a whole people. Not until men are ready to think of themselves as human beings first, rather than as Canadians, Americans, Frenchmen, Englishmen, Germans or Japanese, can there be any hope of real peace or stable prosperity in this world.

MOTHER SHIPTON THE BEST
SOME YEARS AGO there was celebrated one of the centenaries of "Old Mother" Shipton, the English fortune-teller or prophetess, who lived in the Middle Ages. I was on the Montreal Witness at the time and we were deluged with extracts from the Shipton prophecies. I recall that the most famous goes something like this:

"A carriage without horse shall go, disaster fill the world with woe. . . . A war shall follow with the work where dwells the pagan and the Turk. . . . Then when the worse task is done, England and France shall be as one. . . ."

There is a passage about a man flying through the air as swift as a bird or the twinkling of an eye. And a reference to Uncle Sam, as well as John Bull, as follows:

"When north shall thus divide the south, the eagle shall build in the lion's mouth."

Letters to the Editor

RED LIGHTS AHEAD

To the Editor:—I see in tonight's Times, November 26, the letter of the B.C. street railwaymen, pointing out the whole available oil resources may be placed at the disposal of the fighting services, according to the recent request of British government, for use in case of war. I pointed this out early in this question of transportation, and the necessity of retaining the dual system these times. Again, what about tires? Rubber went up in the last war, and the cost of bus tires in the event of another war would be enormous.

I was living in Newport, Monmouth, when the Cardiff and Newport systems were electrified and became publicly owned. Then as here the people were clamoring for cheap fares, the very lowest, as the tram system was their own.

I had a good laugh to myself a few years ago, in reading a paper from there (Newport). Why, the whole thing was just worn out and proper provision had never been made to renew things and they were in a bad fix. I am still laughing, because here we have a company willing to drop the whole thing, as with all their experience they cannot make the system pay, and here we find a lot of people trying to lead us to experiment with it, or some bus system that is going to work wonders. Give us a lower fare, or some share of the "big profits" expected. When experts like the B.C.E. tell us it cannot be done, would they quit it if it had only paid 3 per cent? No! Seeing this, how many of them would have kept the street cars in as good condition as they are, considering their charter was run out, and the whole thing may be scrapped. Act fairly as critics—be careful, or the buses may run out on you and the city be left holding the bag.

C. J. MULLARD.

POLLUTION OF THE GORGE

To the Editor:—May I thank J. F. Waddington, naval architect of Sidney, B.C., for his kindly remarks, referring to my efforts to remedy the state of the Gorge and its tributaries.

If my efforts are successful I shall only have done what I consider the duty of all public-spirited citizens with reference to the city making a survey. May I state that I am, with the kindly help of a few friends, now doing what he suggests.

The ground levels of the area over which the canal would cover have been taken and pegs placed on two ways from the Esquimalt end to Portage. I am arranging for drilling to test the rock so that a cost of the work can be taken. At the other end of Selkirk, depths have been also taken. Then it is my intention to get a petition in the city and municipalities signed by the citizens so that when all is completed it will be placed before the provincial and Dominion governments. May I state that the Chamber of Commerce and Real Estate Board, with other organizations, are taking special interest in this and it is through these bodies and citizens that I hope to show the two governments that the Gorge must be saved and preserved.

Gives Relief in HALF the Time FROM

COLDS.. BRONCHIAL COUGHS

Buckley's 2-WAY TREATMENT fights coughs and colds from within and without and gives even quicker relief than Buckley's Mixture alone. Buckley's White Rub is the only rub with a snow-white base. It is medicated with healing, analgesic oils that stimulate circulation, help break up congestion, and ease breathing. Its medicinal vapors freely inhaled, combined with Buckley's Mixture help to heal and soothe the raw, congested mucous membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes. The Mixture eases the cough and aids in correcting the over acid condition that tends to prolong coughs and colds. Try this combination—Buckley's Mixture and Buckley's White Rub. It must give relief in HALF the time—or your money back.

WEDDINGS

DUNNETT-MURRAY

VANCOUVER—St. Augustine's Church was the scene of the wedding of Helen Marie Fanning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Murray, to Mr. Albert E. Dunnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Dunnett of Victoria. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Jordan, O.M.I., on November 15.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a Boy Blue crepe frock, collared with white satin, a very full skirt and short sleeves. Her accessories were in the shade of wineberry, with corsage of white gardenias, and she carried a white prayer-book. Miss Agnes Nyland, who attended as bridesmaid, wore an Oporto-wine dress with full knife-pleated sleeves and high neckline, with accessories of navy blue. In her bouquet were white and pink carnations. Mr. Earl D. Dunnett was his brother's best man, and acting as ushers were Mr. Leonard Fanning and Mr. Lyle Baker.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandparents, where guests were received by Mrs. Murray wearing bottle-green threaded with gold metallic and corsage of pink and white carnations. She was assisted by Mrs. Dunnett, who chose a gown of rust chiffon with pink carnation corsage.

Early winter blossoms and pink and white streamers decorated the home for the reception, and the bride's table was centred with a triple-tiered wedding cake, embedded in pink-tulle, and appointed with yellow and orchid chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunnett left for their honeymoon to be spent in Victoria and on Vancouver Island, the bride donning over her wedding costume a Lucerne-brown fur coat. They will reside in Vancouver.

HARVEY-GRAY

Rev. S. S. Peat officiated at the marriage of Edna Jean, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, Arundel Drive, and Mr. Edwin George Harvey, son of Mrs. B. B. Harvey, Kelowna, and the late Mr. Harvey, which took place quietly Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a charming frock of pink tulle and a shoulder veil with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Hume and Miss Eileen Barlow in frocks of French blue tulle, who held sheaves of chrysanthemums in varied hues, and Mr. Jack Cox was best man. Mr. Mark Richardson played the wedding march, and later in the evening accompanied Mrs. T. Floyd and Mr. Charles McLean, who sang solos.

A profusion of cream and bronze chrysanthemums had been arranged in the house for the event, and the bride's cake centred the supper table between silver chandelabra holding pink tapers.

Mrs. B. B. Harvey, Kelowna, and Mrs. Claude Collington, Alberni, were guests at the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey will make their home in Kelowna after a honeymoon in the United States, for which the bride left in a rust and black ensemble and a silver fox fur.

The cast will be supported by a full chorus and Mrs. Basil Eorfall will be musical director, with Miss Ethel James at the piano.

After the performance, refreshments will be served and dancing will follow. Tickets may be had from any member or at the door.

HUDSON STRESSES STYLE AND SAFETY—More than one hundred factors enter into motor car safety including such items as styling, comfort and roominess for the driver, in designing the three 1939 lines of Hudsons, that Canadian maker has considered all of them. All cars, even those in the lowest-priced field, now carry the Hudson name. Among the models is the smart and spacious Hudson six Victoria coupe for five passengers, 96 horsepower, 118-inch wheelbase, shown above. The car is now on display in the showrooms of Jameson Motors Ltd., 740 Broughton Street.

IMPROVED EXPLOSIVES

WASHINGTON—Ammonium nitrate, a leading industrial explosive, has one serious drawback: its relative insensitivity and the difficulty with which it is set off.

A way of overcoming that drawback, however, is presented in a patent, No. 2,130,712, granted here to Robert W. Cairns of Wilmington, Del.

Coating ammonium nitrate crystals with a thin film of sodium nitrate renders this important explosive sensitive to ordinary detonation means, Mr. Cairns reports in the specifications accompanying the patent.

The coating is placed on the ammonium nitrate granules by passing them through a solution containing ammonium nitrate and sodium nitrate. The patent is assigned to the Hercules Powder Company.

Seattle Team Wins Debate

Defeats Victoria Chamber Of Commerce Group on Better Presentation

Winning the decision through generally better presented argument, a team from the Toastmasters' No. 1 Club from Seattle Saturday night defeated a team from the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in a debate at the City Hall on the subject: "Resolved that the manufacture of motor vehicles for private use, capable of exceeding a speed of 25 miles per hour, be prohibited."

The affirmative, taken by the local debaters, was supported by Ernest Peden, George Beck and Alec Hall, Seattle, supporting the negative, was represented by Arthur O. Armstrong, Willard Pape and J. Smith.

Frank Paulding, W. H. M. Hel-dane and Kenneth C. Drury were the judges, John Baxter, time-keeper, and Leslie Osborne, chairman.

At the conclusion of the debate Mr. Armstrong of the Seattle team extended an invitation to Victoria to compete in Seattle next spring.

41,000 KILLED

In his opening arguments Ernest Peden, leader of the affirmative noted that 41,000 persons, 15,400 of whom were pedestrians were killed by motor cars in the United States last year, property damage from motor traffic totaled $1,700,000,000. Mr. Peden said that instead of trying to adapt human beings to the motor car, it would be better to adapt the motor car to human beings. Speed was the cause of most accidents.

At 60 miles per hour a blow-out was "shaking hands with death" and records showed that the average man was not fitted to drive at high speeds. If cars were built so that they could not go more than 25 miles per hour, it would help to cut down the danger from speed.

Arguing that such a measure as that proposed would be against the best interests and wishes of the American people and would have serious effects for social and practical reasons, Arthur O. Armstrong led the

Closed Doors to Asiatics Wanted

Native Sons of British Columbia in Favor of Forum for Victoria

"The need for closing British Columbia doors to Asiatics was finally being realized," said George A. Brine, New Westminster, grand factor of the Native Sons of British Columbia, at a banquet held by Victoria Post No. 1, in the Douglas Cafe, Saturday evening.

The order had stressed the need 20 years ago, he continued, and now it looked as if their end would be fulfilled.

Mr. Brine was accompanied on this official visit by grand chaplain Albert Jones, grand deputy R. Battle and S. Jones from the Douglas Post at Ladysmith. The visitors were welcomed by W. V. J. Church, chief factor of the local post.

A representation of the Victoria Post No. 3, Native Daughters of British Columbia was also present at the banquet. Greetings were extended to the visitors by Mrs. B. Creech, chief factor, on their behalf.

In his address, Mr. Brine also spoke of further objects of the Native Sons of British Columbia. The order was striving to improve the status of citizenship and to create in the minds of individuals their personal responsibilities to the state. Good government and imperial duty were other objects.

The order was against any movement that tended to weaken the bonds of the Empire.

During the banquet, the Victorian Post went on record as strongly endorsing the plan of the city to build a forum here.

R. H. Hiscocks made the resolution and L. Good seconded it.

Addresses were also given by J. B. Clearhue, K.C., D. D. McTavish, E. E. Wootton, Miss B. Wilson, G. A. Gardiner, F. W. Waller, Lawrence Westendale and Major J. P. Hibben.

$1,900 Netted By Grand Forks Arena

In Victoria's quest for a forum, the Capital City could certainly take a lesson or two from the little town of Grand Forks in the interior of British Columbia, close to the border.

With a population of only 1,298, Grand Forks built a sports arena and during the first nine months of operation it showed net receipts of $1,900 after allowing for interest and sinking fund.

Vote "Yes" for Civic Auditorium and Sports Arena.

Manufacturers, farmers and merchants averaged a payment of $95.53 a truck, during 1936, in getting their goods to the consumer.

Letters to the Editor

JEHOVAH

To the Editor:—Nothing that Hitler has hitherto done in his effort to eradicate all trace of Jewry from the national life of Germany has struck so deeply into the consciousness both of Jews and Christians the world over as his edict to eliminate the name "Jehovah" from all worship, rituals and records, not of Jews only but of Protestants and Catholics alike. The news has sunk with a sickening thud into every heart that loves and venerates the Holy Name.

To the Jew that Name has an unprecedented significance. He regards it, quite justifiably, as the gate of entrance to holy ground where no Gentile foot may tread. For that reason the Hitlerian mandate has inflicted a wound so deep and tender that we almost shrink from touching it with our alien hands, lest, haply, we may deepen the wound which, most of all, we would wish to heal.

To the Jew "Jehovah" was infinitely more than a name of deity; it was the bond of the Covenant. We are accustomed to think of that Covenant as "the ten commandments"—a great misnomer. It is never so styled in the Hebrew. It was never intended as a code of morals. As such it would be strangely defective. There is no command to pray or praise, or to offer sympathy or assistance to our fellows in time of need. Ever it is "The Book of the Covenant," recorded on "The Tablets of the Covenant," preserved in "The Ark of the Covenant." Under the terms of that Covenant the Jews become God's chosen people and He becomes to them "Jehovah" their God—the God of their nation, in a very peculiar sense He was so regarded by them and by all the surrounding nations.

In that one word, "I am Jehovah thy God," is enshrined the promise and potency of that deathless hope to which they have clung through all the centuries of their dispersion.

It may be that the Jew will experience a sense of relief, if as we devoutly hope and trust, this sacrilegious inhibition has, unintentionally on the part of the malefactor, left the ineffable name inviolate. The name "Jehovah" is, after all, only a modern and hybrid form of the Hebrew original—Jahweh. That name was held so sacred that it was treasured solely in their holy of holies, and never pronounced at all. Adonai was used as a substitute for it, and in transcribing the manuscripts the ingenious scribes resorted to a device which, in this day and hour, fills us with amazement and gratitude. Since the name could never be read orally, a safeguard must be provided for the reader. To the four consonants of Jahweh were attached the four vowels of Adonai. The Septuagint Rabbis refused to transliterate the sacred name in Greek, and their device was to substitute therefor the Greek Kyrios (Lord), and so it has come about that both R.V. and A.V. have carried over the Greek substitute.

For ourselves, we have always regretted the change, but if, today, that quaint old expedient has brought to our Jewish brothers, in the hour of their supreme calamity some small measure of relief, we could shout for joy.

FRED T. TAPSCOTT,
3342 Whittier Ave.

REMINING US OF A FINE CITIZEN

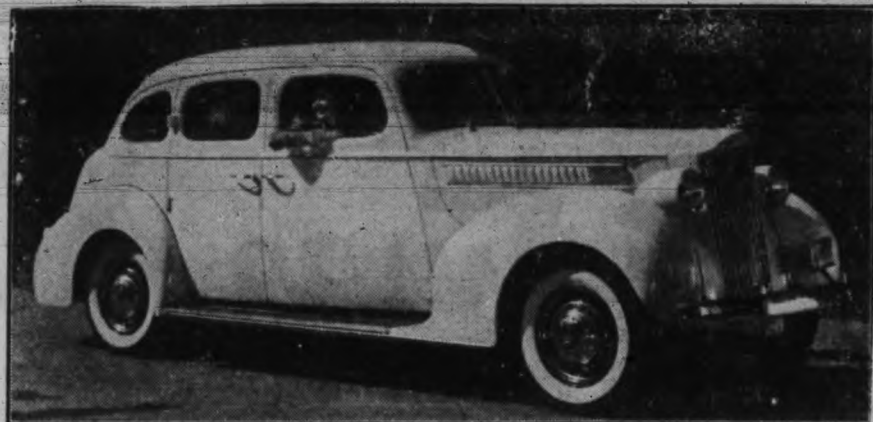

To the Editor:—May I take the opportunity of endorsing the suggestions of the Rev. Mr. Comley with reference to the relief of the Jewish people in not only Germany but other countries of Europe. The idea of instituting a fund under the name of the Fred Landsberg Relief Fund is an excellent one, because it will serve to remind us of the life work of one of our own citizens of the Jewish faith who did so much for the poor people of this city and district.

HERBERT ANSCOMB.

TRAMS NEED NOT BE NOISEY

To the Editor:—Seeing that the chief and only objection to trams of any consequence is the noise they make, it is only right we should know more about the latest and newest designs that have been built to eliminate this before discarding the tram system.

Some of those English cities that have adopted buses, or trolley motors, have two to four railways running through them, with several suburban and other central stations, in and around them, which carry often half of the people or more, and such buses, trolleys and other trams, carry only the balance. Every great city has more than one system of transportation, either railways, some overhead and underground, or tram systems, besides buses. Here we have not even one single railway running through our city. We have to look to the future and not what Victoria is today. This pulling into the side of the road for buses or trolley motors, is not going to work here without some drawbacks.

Mr. Beck has been worth his money, he has given us valuable information, but there should be no hurry on this question. We want to get information from a city of 150,000 population if there is one, that has "no railway running through it, tram, or other system, than buses to serve them, as it would then be here.

J. MULLARD.

TESTING OUR PRINCIPLES

To the Editor:—The civilized world, honor struck by the slaughter of innocent Chinese women and children, is now faced with the brutal and unwarranted treatment of the German-Jews, not only by the German government, but by the German people. Governments of other people and official members representing these people must and are, for diplomatic and other reasons, made to shut up and smile at the outrage. Our newspapers condemn this crime committed on this helpless minority. You and I condemn it! But what do we do about it? We can do something. We can quit buying German goods, we can stop sending an endless stream of gold to Germany. You, to save a few measly pennies, buy some cheaply made German something or other, that sends them dollar dollars. We take this dollar from the British workman to create work for the Germans. What work? Work making bombing planes, poison gas and bullets to kill our sons and destroy our homes and cities. We send gold to strengthen the most brutal power-seeking nation the modern world has ever known; the nation that tramps and kicks at the small and fallen; the nation whose soul grows smaller as its power and strength grows bigger. You and I, man and woman, rich and poor, can show in a practical way our sympathy for Jews and Czechs and contempt for brutal German methods. We help protect our home and children, we fight for all that is decent in this world by treating all German goods as tainted worse than a leper's garment. Don't send gold to Germany nor Japan—boycott these two murderous nations mentally and financially. Act as though they did not exist. That is the one and only language they can understand and that you and I can speak. If the English and other governments are on the run from this German monster, let us protect ourselves where we can. Don't help strengthen Germany and Japan, by doing so we are strengthening the nations that in the future will destroy us.

F. W. L. MOORE,

WAY OF PEACE

To the Editor:—While the world trembles with fear, anxiety, hate, cynicism and shattered faith, let us take stock of ourselves. Nellie McClung has it clear and sound; she inspires love instead of hate. There are so many influential people who strongly rebuke Germany and Italy, but they outdo themselves by threats and merciless condemnation. Though my fellow countrymen mean well, yet they unwittingly sow seeds of distrust, suspicion, fear and hate, which can only result in war and never in peace.

If war would avenge the wrong done the Jews, Protestants and Catholics and others I would certainly be for it and so would all deep thinkers, but since the Great War did not end all wars and settle all trouble, I can not pin any faith in wars. History amply proves that hate and retaliation has not, even in seeming cases, justified its means. To rebuke evil nations is brave, Christian and honorable, but to threaten and mercilessly condemn them is another matter, serious, and shall I say foolhardy unless of course we are all ready and agreed to punish the wicked ones.

We have not paid for the last war nor have we forgotten the sorrow and loss it brought the sufferers. War or even its actual preparation cost billions of dollars and our people are even now over-taxed.

The surest, quickest, sanest and most peaceful way to bring universal peace is to be prepared, united in love, co-operation and forgiveness, thus progressing nationally and through the Empire. And when we have attained to this state (not before) can we tell other nations and empires how to run their governments. But I think we will first have to do inventory and clean up our houses a bit. Visitors may drop in and see just how we live.

JOHN SUNISLOW.

PARKING FACILITIES FOR BICYCLES

To the Editor:—The average boy is the owner of very little real property of any value except clothes, some sporting gear, and usually a bicycle. Now in nearly every instance to suddenly discover that his quick and efficient method of transportation has disappeared without any trace leaves him desolate and poor indeed.

For a newsboy or a messenger or a store delivery employee a bicycle is necessary to hold down the job, and to those of school age, girls as well as boys, the same two-wheeled economical machine gets them places on time.

There is no location downtown where a bicycle can be left and the owner assured that when leaving a show, rink, store, club or religious institution he will find it there safe and no part of it dismantled.

It would be a kindly gesture on the part of some citizen with an interest in youth, or a department store or the city, to provide "covered" checking parking facilities for bicycles downtown, especially from dusk to 11 p.m.

COST OF EDUCATING CHEMAMUS JAPANESE

To the Editor:—In your November 19 issue, captioned, "Farmers ask relief, cost $8,000 to educate Japanese children in Chemainus and they pay no taxes." This statement being made by Mr. H. E. Evans, one of the delegates of the Farmers' Institute, who met the House agricultural committee in Victoria.

As this gentleman is an accredited representative of the Farmers' Institute, a councillor and school trustee, the figures given and his following statement are liable to be accepted as realities.

The $8,000 mentioned as paid by the farmers to educate the Japanese children is far from correct, according to our figures. This amount is net and covers the tuition of 268 children in elementary grades and that of 45 pupils who attend high school in Ladysmith, and are transported there. Of these pupils, the Oriental attendance in the elementary grades is 28.46 per cent, while of the 45 high school pupils, five are Japanese.

As for the farmers bearing the cost of this total, it should be understood that there are very few farms in the Chemainus school district, and the burden of the taxation comes on the residential properties and the mill properties.

Each and every male Japanese who has attained the age of 21 years pays road and poll tax in the same manner as applied to any household, and as well pays any trade license and property tax that is assessed against them.

While it can be said that the householder does not contribute to school costs, this can be traced back to a resolution approved by Mr. Evans whereby the poll tax in this district was absorbed for social service work in the municipality, and at a time when the schools most needed it.

This tax was heretofore equitably divided or paid out for schools on a percentage of collections depending on the area in which the biggest total was collected.

It is unfortunate that figures were not qualified before any announcement was made to the House committee regardless of what they wanted to show by the figures to justify their contention. They should at least have been correct.

JEWIS AND ISRAELITES

To the Editor:—If the Bible was taught in churches and schools as a history or textbook, the ordinary layman would not experience much difficulty in answering the following questions, most of which have a bearing on present-day events:

1. Distinguish between Jews and Israelites.
2. When was Palestine first divided into two tribes and 10 tribes?
3. Who were the appointed kings and name the two tribes or divisions?
4. What king was deceived into marrying a Jewess?
5. What circumstances led to her identity?
6. Quote passages where God spoke to Judah and Israel separately and together.
7. Where does God say he will redeem Judah, also Israel, from among the heathens?
8. What did Paul say was a stumbling block to the Jews?
9. Why were Judah and Israel scattered abroad?
10. Quote from the Bible a probable location of the Israelites.
11. Who did Joseph marry, and who were his children?
12. Where were the followers of Christ first called Christians?
13. Trace King Solomon's lineage back to Boaz.
14. Before what king did the writing on the wall appear?
15. What was the interpretation and why did it appear?

J. O. STINSON.

CREATION

To the Editor:—Mr. Sanders states in his recent letter that the Bible gives two different stories about the creation. I would advise him to study his Bible more carefully and he will find that the first and the second chapters of Genesis include the same story. The story about Adam and Eve begin in the first and continues through the second, telling how they were made on the sixth day of the creation, and mentioning their names. It also gives further information about the Garden of Eden, saying it was somewhere in the Mesopotamia Valley, between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. So let us remember that southwestern Asia is the cradle of the human race.

FRIENDSHIP WITH CHINA

To the Editor:—Fresh from a long period of duty as Asiatic reporter to the Manchester Guardian came Mr. Timperley, as guest-speaker before a luncheon party of 60 "Friends of China." After a lucid address, in which he pictured "the situation in the Far East," he gave clear and patient answers to several questions. May I mention one of them, giving the substance of his answer? Question: "What is the reaction of the Chinese leaders and people with regard to the continued supply of munitions of destruction by Canada to China's enemies?" Answer: "The attitude of Chiang Kai-shek and the 450,000,000 people who stand with him for the defence of their homes, and of the democratic world, against the hordes sent out from Japan without legitimate excuse to plunder and rape and kill in China's crowded marts and widespread provinces, is one of growing cynicism towards the policy of inaction adopted by the democratic nations—all save one. To Russia they have not looked in vain for help with her they want a still closer alliance."

By "cynicism" he meant that the Chinese are getting fed up with fair words and unhelpful hesitancy, constant giving in to the nation whose actions they condemn, and refusal to take any

Salvationists Open New Hall

Esquimalt Corps Holds Services in Victoria West Fire Hall

The Esquimalt Corps of the Salvation Army took over its new headquarters in the old Victoria West fire hall yesterday afternoon. Special services were held during the day and attracted large congregations.

At 3 in the afternoon Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of fire wardens, handed over the key to the building to Brigadier Mat Junker, divisional officer of the Salvation Army for British Columbia. He in turn handed it to Adjutant Weir, of the Esquimalt Corps, and those who had witnessed the ceremony outside the building entered and participated in the services inside.

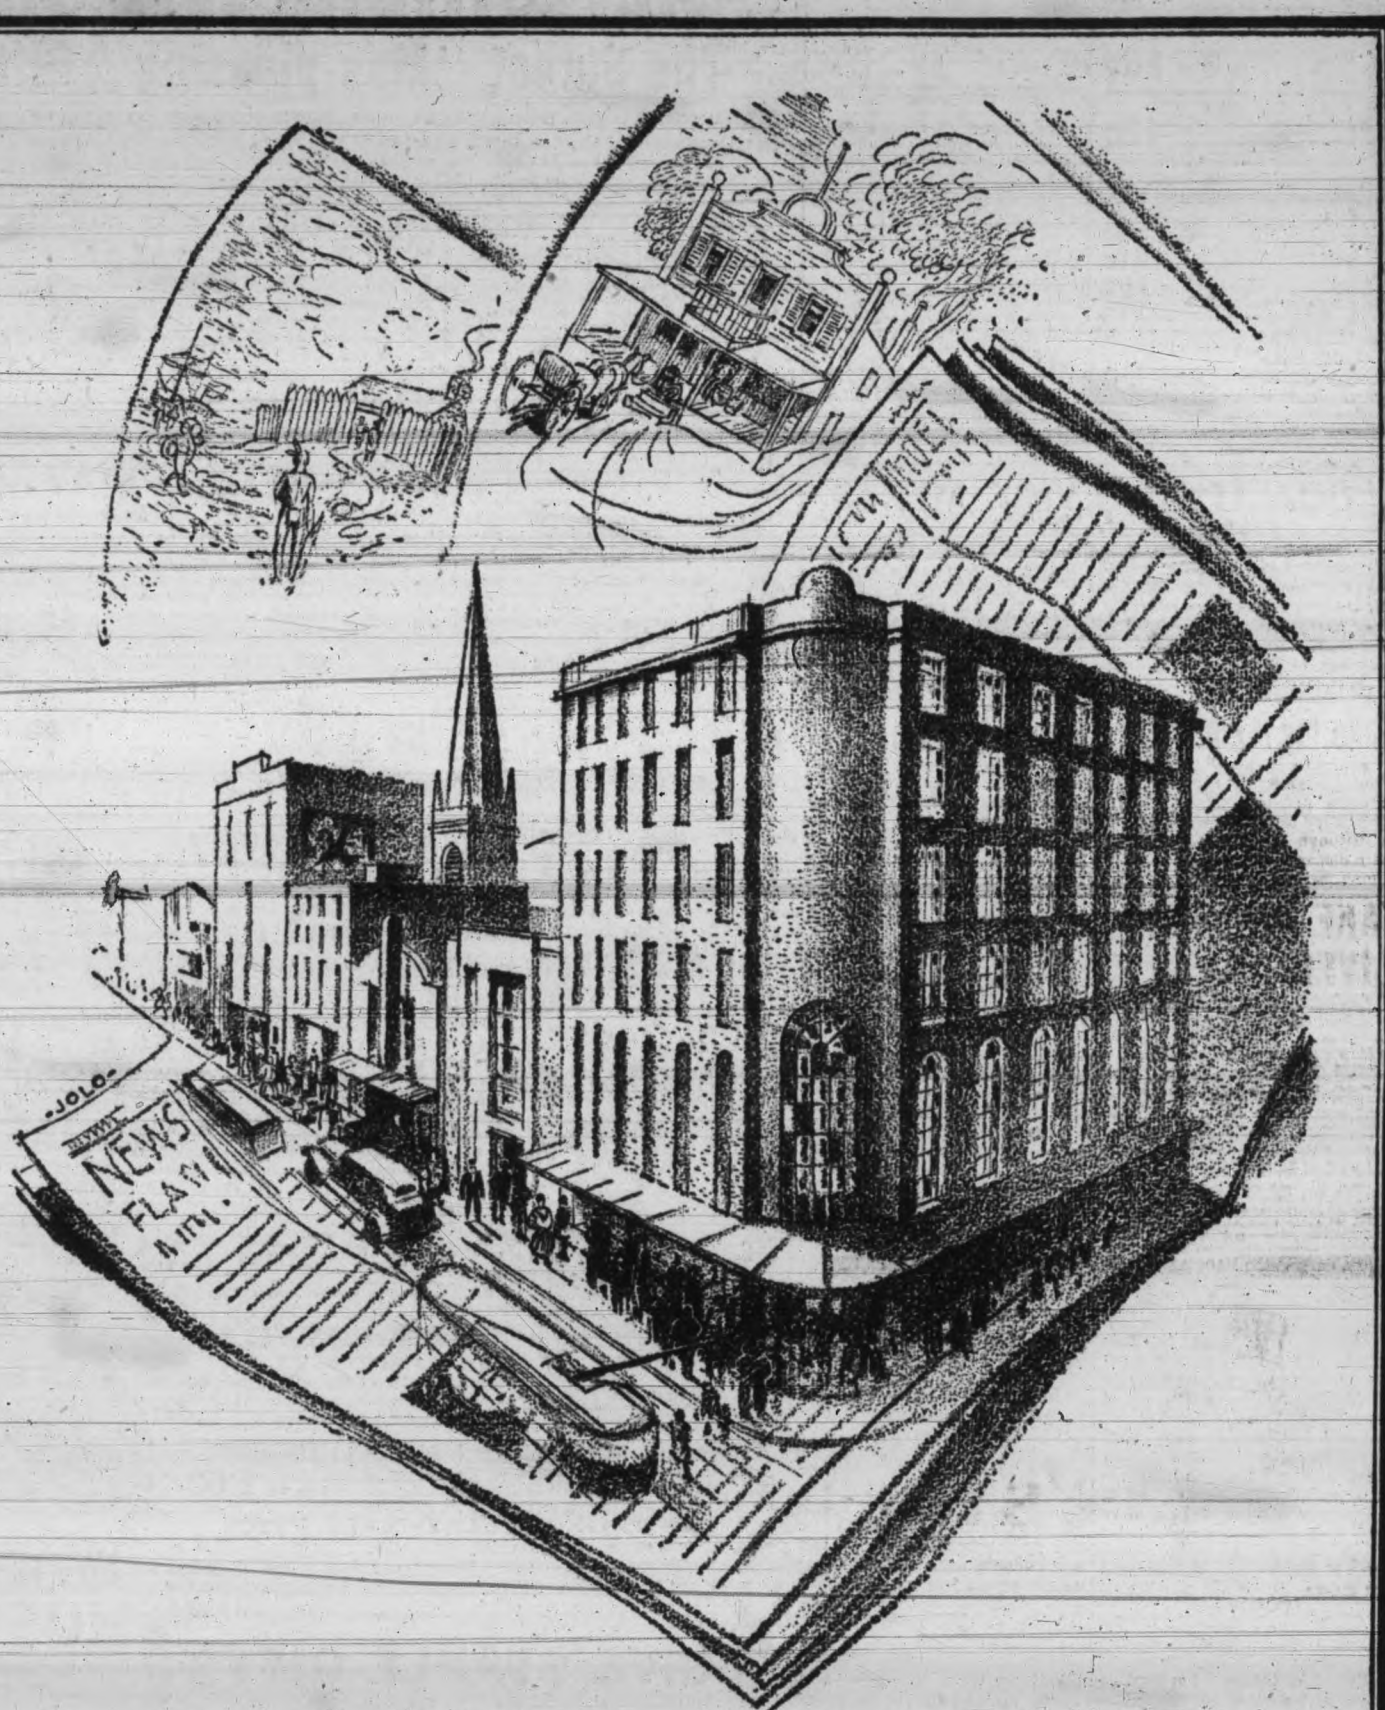

Brigadier Junker acted as chairman and the speakers included Corps Sergt. Major Eccles, Adjutant Charles Watt of the Victoria Corps, and Horace Bowles, secretary of the corps. They spoke of the joy of having the new quarters and of their hopes for a widening of their activities. They paid tribute to the work of Ald. Wills and other members of the City Council in making it possible for them to have the building.

Rev. James Hood read the Scriptures and Rev. James Hyde offered the prayers. The Esquimalt Corps band played several numbers. At last evening's service Brigadier Junker was the speaker. Tonight at 8 a special musical program will be provided in the new hall by the corps band.

BAPTIST Y.P.S.
The young people of the First Baptist Church will meet tomorrow night at 8, when the officers for the coming year will be elected.

ST. MARK'S A.Y.P.A.
The monthly meeting of St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 in the hall. All new members are requested to be present.

The Show Windows of the Nation

The merchants of Canada have played an important part in national development. They were in the vanguard of colonization; their business is the axis on which modern trade and commerce revolve.

Every merchant's progress and the value of his service to the community have depended at all times on his ability to keep prospective customers informed of the kind and quality of the goods he could supply. Advertising has been essential to the profitable conduct of his business.

The efficiency of the local daily newspapers as advertising media has been demonstrated more and more conclusively as markets have expanded and the variety of competitive goods has increased.

Today the most successful merchants are those who advertise their products consistently and frequently in their local newspapers. They know the newspapers maintain an intimate contact with every home and that every consumer depends on his daily newspaper for reliable information concerning goods and services available.

Consequently, the advertising columns of the Canadian daily newspapers have become, in a very real sense, the show windows of the nation. They influence the purchases of more than two million families every day.

Review your will every January

Every year thousands of wills become obsolete because their makers fail to bring them up-to-date. Hidden away in some safe deposit box, many of these documents bequeath forgotten property to persons who no longer exist and name executors already dead!

Make it a point to review your will every January and give careful consideration to changed circumstances. Consider, too, the qualifications of your Executor. The addition of a simple codicil is all that is necessary to secure the administrative services of The Royal Trust Company.

D. R. Campbell Opens Store

D. R. Campbell, who for over twenty years has been manufacturing artificial limbs, trusses, splints, belts, celluloid jackets, etc., in Canada, has opened a new store at 631 Fort Street, under the firm name of D. R. Campbell Limited. There he will continue to make surgical appliances as well as the modern artificial limbs from airplane metal, which reduces their weight considerably.

Mr. Campbell has been associated for nearly two years with McGill and Orme Limited. His new store is just two doors away from this well-known firm. There are many new and ultra-modern features, including a perfume bar of plate glass and hammered bronze where a complete line of French perfumes are displayed, moderately priced and very appropriate as Christmas gifts. The new store also has a complete line of Yardley's and Grossmith's English gift sets as well as drug sundries.

The firm of D. R. Campbell Limited is the authorized agent for the "Camp's" surgical and health garments. An experienced nurse fitter is always in attendance.

Parliamentary Rule for Roumania

Carol, Crushing Fascists, Said to Plan Democracy

BUDAPEST (AP)—Observers in touch with Roumanian affairs said today King Carol, smashing the Fascist Iron Guard with mighty blows, was heading neighboring Roumania back toward something resembling democracy. Many Balkan diplomats nervously watching the gunplay in Roumania were agreed Carol was turning away from an authoritarian experiment in government. They said he was doing so after considering carefully dangers of being a strong king in the Balkans and at the risk of becoming thoroughly unpopular with Germany and Italy.

The killing of Corneliu Zelea and 16 others of the outlawed Iron Guard last Wednesday had definite international repercussions, despite the Roumanian contention it was an internal affair. Cordeanu, rightly or wrongly, was popularly regarded as an exponent of Nazi ideas in Roumania. By the summary manner in which he was disposed of, official Roumania expressed its attitude towards his ideology.

Carol, diplomats here said, hoped to restore a parliamentary form of government to his country. But they pointed out every effort in that direction heretofore had been blocked by Iron Guard propaganda which sought to push the kingdom towards authoritarianism.

A Bucharest dispatch at the week-end quoted police as stating the slaying of 17 Iron Guardists followed discovery of a plot to bomb and destroy parts of Cluj, university seat and reputed centre of activities of the outlawed Fascist-patterned organization. The authorities said the plan fell through because of reluctance of some of the young guards to carry out their assignments and swift police action against the terrorists.

AUTO BODY PLANT REMAINS CLOSED

Pickets Still at Flint, Mich., But Reopening Expected Tomorrow

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Pickets remained on duty today at Fisher Body plant No. 1 and no work was done pending ratification by the union membership of a strike settlement reached last night by international officers of the United Auto Workers and the management of the General Motors Corporation.

From Detroit came word the settlement would be submitted for approval at a union meeting here tonight, and it was assumed the Fisher body plant would reopen Tuesday morning. About 6,400 workers were involved in the strike.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—E. L. Warburton, 50, well-known British Columbia mining engineer and resident of the province for 28 years, died here Saturday after a short illness.

His wife and a daughter survive him in South Queen's Ferry, Scotland.

Born in Cheshire, England, he obtained early experience in Irish gold mines and coal mines of Scotland. He came to Canada in 1910. Appointed superintendent of the Corbin Collieries in 1918, he remained in that capacity until the mines in the Crow's Nest district closed eight years ago.

For the past three years he had acted as district agent for the C. C. Snowden Company of Calgary, and the Western Drafting and Blueprint Company and Sternum Products and Instruments Ltd. of Regina.

NO BAIL IN OHIO CASE OF SLAYING
R. Bready Pleads Not Guilty of Murdering Pastor Father

CHILLICOTHE, O. (AP)—Robert Bready, 29, pleaded innocent today to the slaying of his pastor father, Dr. Russell H. Bready of nearby Bainbridge, and was bound over to the Ross county grand jury on a first degree murder charge. He was deeded bond and returned to jail.

Prosecutor Lester S. Reid, who said Bready had confessed he shot his father while the father was taking him on a walk to "sober up" early Friday, said the case would be presented to the grand jury probably January 3.

A funeral service for the late Dr. Bready, whom the son termed "the original prohibitionist," will be held at 8 p.m. at Bainbridge. Deputy sheriff Lon Lowery said he would take young Bready to the rites.

Scrap Iron Moved Slowly at Nanaimo
NANAIMO (CP)—The slow process of moving scrap iron from a picketed Nanaimo junkyard to a barge in the harbor with one truck continued today. The owner estimated about 25 tons a day are being moved.

Pickets, including women and placard carriers, have been hooting at the truck crew.

Two Children Lose Lives

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (CP)—Frances La Plante, six, and Richard La Plante, four, were burned to death last night, and their grandfather, R. Johnson, was slightly injured trying to rescue them, when their home at South Gilles, 35 miles west of here, was burned.

An exploding kerosene lamp was believed to have been the cause of the tragedy. The parents were away from home at the time and the house was swiftly destroyed.

Correct this sentence: "We'll not waste a penny for pleasure," said the newly-wed, "till we get everything paid for."

California Gridders Register Surprise 13 to 0 Victory

LOS ANGELES—Notre Dame came tumbling off football's highest peak Saturday, knocked down for the first time this year by Southern California, far west Rose Bowl hope, in a savage game that ended in a 13 to 0 victory for the Trojans before a record crowd of 101,000.

Beaten twice this year but determined to carry no more defeats into the Rose Bowl against Duke January 2, the warriors of Troy upset Notre Dame's hopes in two lightning thrusts.

Tennessee, unbeaten for the season, finished off their campaign by routing Mississippi, 47 to 0.

Jimmy Power of Temple added his name to the season's roll of fame as he took the kickoff from Florida and galloped 102 yards for a touchdown. Temple wound up victors, 20 to 12.

North Carolina came from behind in the last half to defeat a fighting Citadel team, 14 to 6.

Pro Grid Final

CHICAGO — A new professional football champion will be crowned Sunday in New York, and it will be either the touchdown-stingy New York Giants or the high-scoring Green Bay Packers.

The line-up for the title battle was definitely decided yesterday. The Giants crushed the Washington Redskins, 1937 champions, 36 to 0 to capture eastern division honors. The Detroit Lions, Green Bay's only threat in the western division, dropped a 21 to 7 decision to the lowly Philadelphia Eagles and eliminated the possibility of a playoff with the Packers.

HOYT HEADS A.A.U.
WASHINGTON — Judge Samuel E. Hoyt of New Haven, Conn., a compromise candidate for president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States a year ago, was rewarded yesterday for a year of faithful service by unanimous re-election.

Soccer Games

MERCHANTS' LEAGUE

Mount Talmie footballers tested the waters of defeat for the first time Saturday when they wound up on the short end of a 4 to 2 score in their Merchants' League struggle with the Navy at Central Park. The Talmie Club only had 10 men on the field in the first half and they were unable to halt the aggressive sailors who piled in a pair of goals in 10 minutes through the footwork of Barton and Fuller. Mitchell scored again for the Navy but before the breather arrived, the Talmie crashed the score column to make the count 3 to 1. Although at full strength at the changeover Mount Talmie continued to trail and Fraser boosted the Navy score another notch. The leading Talmie's cut the sailor margin to two goals before the game finished through Harper's marker.

The other game in this circuit saw Young Conservatives nose out Admirals 3 to 2, after a close battle. Conservatives tallied the only market in the first half and both factions scored twice in the second-half drive.

INTERMEDIATES
Young Liberals continued their drive at the head of the Intermediate Football League Saturday afternoon when they handed third-place Cooperage a 7 to 1 drubbing. In the first five minutes Cooperage netted to take the lead, but at the 15-minute mark a Cooperage full-back knocked the ball into his own net to even the count. From then on the Liberals did all the scoring, netting six more goals before the final whistle sounded. Bert Politano bagged three goals and Cosier, Okell and Duncan scored one apiece for the Liberals.

JUVENILES
Esquimalt Meat Market turned back Rovers 5 to 0 to score the only decisive victory in the Juvenile League. This was an under 16 division match. Another game in this section resulted in Hill's Corner getting a hard-earned 1 to 0 verdict over Maple Leafs. St. Louis College turned back Oaklands United 1 to 0 in the under 14 division, while Pee-wees shut out the Shamrocks 3 to 0.

An appropriate musical program featuring the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, Band, vocal solos and an inspiring address by Rev. G. R. V. Bolster was presented to a large audience. Numbers on the program following Mr. Bolster's address included "Abide With Me," "Judge Me, O God," a soprano solo, "Lead, Kindly, Light," by Mrs. E. Ridgeway, and closing lodge ceremonies.

SUNDAY'S GALE HIT 50 MILES

Victoria's fears that another southwest gale last night was going to extend damage of Friday's hurricane were allayed when the high wind dropped as suddenly as it had started.

No damage of a serious nature was reported.

It reached gale proportions between 7 and 8, when the average was 33 miles an hour. From 9 to 10 it dropped to 38 miles an hour and after 10 dropped again to 28.

The forecast was uncertain, Gonzales Observatory reported, owing to the absence of reports from the Pacific Ocean.

Colman Brings Villon to Life

"If I Were King"
Featured on Capitol
Screen Today

"If I Were King," the picture which opened today at the Capitol Theatre, marks the outstanding achievement in the careers of two great Hollywood figures—Ronald Colman, whose portrayal of Francois Villon tops all the romantic figures of history and fiction he has played, and Producer-Director Frank Lloyd, whose latest work even surpasses his "Cavalcade," "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Wells Fargo."

This new picture is outstanding on many scores—for Colman's spirited and believable portrayal of the poetic rogue who became ruler of France for one glorious week, for its pulsing love story of a vagabond and a royal princess, for Lloyd's magnificent handling of mob scenes, especially the one in which the Burgundians are turned away from the very gates of Paris, and finally for the performance of Basil Rathbone, who makes Louis XI, one of the strangest characters of history, a living person.

The two women in Villon's life are played by Frances Dee and Ellen Drew.

'Keep Smiling' At Oak Bay

Jane Withers
Here in 20th
Century-Fox Show

In Hollywood, here where you have to put up a good front (or, in this case, a good facade) the old-fashioned theatrical boarding house now belongs to the gaudy past. At least you don't call it a boarding house any more. You call it a "guest house"—which makes the landlady a "hostess."

Such a guest house provides the background for many of the heart-tugging episodes of "Keep Smiling," Jane Withers' new starring picture for 20th Century-Fox, which opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre, with Gloria Stuart and Henry Wilcoxon featured in a splendid cast.

Others in the cast of "Keep Smiling" include Jed Prouty, Douglas Fowley and Robert Allen. Herbert I. Leeds directed and John Stone was associate producer.

Vote "Yes" for Civic Auditorium and Sports Arena.

'Ninth Symphony' First Feature

Plaza Also Presents Gargan in
'Behind the Mike'

"The Ninth Symphony" or "The Final Chord" is the current feature at the Plaza Theatre. Obligated to flee from Germany with her husband because of his financial crimes, Hanna Mueller (Miss Tashady) learns on New Year's Eve in New York that he had committed suicide, leaving her penniless and ill. Broken by despair and the thought of her little boy, Peter, left in Berlin with strangers, she seems determined to die. Then the strains of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, played by the orchestra of the Berlin State Opera and coming to her through the radio loudspeaker in the next room, revive her.

In the meantime Peter has been adopted by Erich Garvenberg, who conducted the Ninth Symphony. His wife, Lil Davogger, does not appreciate music, and seeks distraction in mystic cults. Then Hanna arrives in Berlin, gets a job as nursemaid to her own child, and experienced cinemagoers can anticipate the rest.

The second feature is "Behind the Mike," with William Gargan and Judith Barrett.

'Heidi' Comes To Columbia

Shirley Temple as "Heidi." Millions the world over have been enthralled by the warmth, the tenderness and the charming beauty of Johanna Spyri's beloved story of Heidi and all the colorful folk who lived and laughed and loved high up in the Swiss Alps, just beneath the stars. Translated into all languages and read everywhere, it is a story that had to wait for its star before it could be brought to the screen. The Twentieth Century-Fox production of "Heidi," starring Shirley Temple, now at the Columbia Theatre, is the picture for which she will be remembered always.

Marx Bros. in Screen Up roar

Picture patrons who object to changes in a play or book when it is translated to the screen have a pleasant surprise in the case of the Marx Brothers' new screen uproar, "Room Service."

The film version of the famous Broadway hit has probably been less altered from the original than any other play ever brought to the silver sheet. In every essential of plot and situation, the film and play are identical. The necessary compression of a two-and-a-half hour play to fit the one-and-a-half hour requirements of a film offering was achieved by cutting down the dialogue and incidental bits of "business," thus enhancing the pace and entertainment value of the picture.

Lucille Ball and Ann Miller have the feminine leads in the film, with Frank Albertson also in the supporting cast of "Room Service," an RKO Radio Picture now at the Atlas Theatre.

'Rodeo Rhythm' Empire Show

Major Bowes' unit of amateur entertainment, a two-day engagement, "Rodeo Rhythm," will open Wednesday at the Empire Theatre with two shows at 2.15 and 8.15.

The unit is composed of outstanding western singers, dancers, comedians and other entertainers who have appeared on the major's weekly radio program. Featured are Alice Kavan, in the "Dance of the Gaucho"; Dotty and Bobby Edwards; Broncho Busters of Dance; Pleasant Crump, "The Chuck Wagon Champ"; Kay Carroll, "Yodeling Cowboy"; Five Barbecue Ranchers, "From the BQ Ranch"; the Three Chords, "From Them That Hills of Boston"; John Stanton, "Juggling Rancher"; and Carol Stahley, "The Swinging Songstress from the Rio Grande."

Cleopatra and Mark Antony

1—MEETING WITH CAESAR
Of all the queens in the history of Egypt, the most famous is Cleopatra. She lived 2,000 years ago, but the memory of her charm is still fresh.

Cleopatra visited Julius Caesar

At the age of 17 Cleopatra became the Egyptian queen. By the terms of her father's will, she was to share power over the kingdom with a younger brother. This plan probably would have worked if it had not been for plotting men in the palace. Favoring the young prince, they took away Cleopatra's power and forced her into exile.

How long Cleopatra would have stayed in exile, there is no way of telling—if it had not been for a certain event. A famous Roman general, Julius Caesar, came to Egypt with an armed force.

Cleopatra heard of the event, and decided to visit Caesar and ask him to help her get back the power her father had wanted her to have. Fearing her brother's soldiers would capture her before she could reach the palace where Caesar was staying at Alexandria, she went to him in disguise.

Legend says the 22-year-old queen was wrapped up in a rug or blanket and carried into the palace on the shoulders of a servant. Her servant made believe he had a load of baggage on his shoulders, baggage which was to be taken to Caesar's palace.

The story goes on to say that the servant carried Cleopatra to a room where Caesar was seated. When he saw what the "baggage" contained, he was much amused, and also admired the cleverness of the young woman who stood before him.

Soon the queen told of her short reign, and of her exile. Caesar listened to her words. He liked the music of her voice, and the sparkle in her eyes. Soon he became her champion, and promised he would see that she obtained her rightful place again.

Caesar was at that time 52 years of age. Starting as an officer in the Roman army, he had risen to the highest place. He was not called an emperor, but he had become the dictator over Rome and all the lands in the Roman Empire.

The brother of Cleopatra, or at least the men who had the brother in their charge, heard of the plan to return a share of power to the queen. Before long a battle was fought over the question, and Caesar's soldiers won the day.

Cleopatra seems to have greatly admired the powerful Roman. When he invited her to visit Rome, she gladly accepted. To honor her, Caesar ordered a statue made in her likeness, and had it placed side by side with a statue of the goddess Venus.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, December 6, 1938

According to astrology this is rather a forbidding day in planetary direction. It is a date for pausing before making any important move in business or political affairs.

Holiday stock should move rapidly, but speculative merchandising ideas will be unfortunate. Jewelers and dealers in costly luxuries will be widely patronized. Concessions will be made to workers and many will receive good-sized bonuses.

In Europe and Asia economic strain will be severe. In China and Spain there will be greater suffering than ever before. Palestine will continue to conflict; peace on earth will not be apparent in the Holy Land this winter.

Astrologers have frequently forecast that secret plans will be evolved by groups of widely different aims. Leaders in reform efforts will develop in American classrooms.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes that should be fortunate, but may find obstacles in their way. Women may be lucky, especially in romances.

Children born on this day probably will be fond of argument, artistic and extremely intelligent. These subjects of Sagittarius are usually popular and count many friends.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young woman in love with a widower who has two small sons. He can give me every luxury, but there are two things that make me doubt the wisdom of marrying him. One is that I shall expect my husband fully to return my affection, but as he has been married before, could he earnestly and sincerely do this? Also, the thought that he has belonged to another woman and is the father of her children maddens me. The other objection is that I am very independent and cannot bear to think of giving up my freedom. What shall I do?
JANE.

Answer: It does not seem to me that you are cut out for a widower's wife. To begin with, the woman who marries a widower should be big and broad-minded enough to accept the fact of his previous marriage without jealousy. As you are not able to do so, that is disqualification No. 1.

Of course, no man can have for his second wife the romantic love that he gave his first. That belongs to youth, and can be no more conjured up again than can any other boyish illusion, so the second wife has to reconcile herself to that. Experience takes the edge off any experience, and the man who has been married and who has learned to adjust himself to domesticity, and who has gone to house-keeping, comes into matrimony a second time as a professional and not as an amateur. To him no second bride can be the awesome and wonderful creature that his girl bride was to him. Nor can setting up a new establishment give him the thrill that he got out of buying his first pots and pans, chairs and tables.

Of course, it isn't in any woman who loves a man not to feel a pang of regret that she shouldn't have been his first wife and share those first experiences with him, but there is gain as well as loss in being a No. 2 wife. For the mere fact that a man has been married once fits him better for it a second time. Like the hero of Mr. Kipling's story, who learned about women from every lady he loved, the widower has obtained a liberal education about the feminine sex and how to handle it from his first wife. He is house-broken, so to speak, and, particularly, he is bill-broken.

He doesn't think, as the youthful bridegroom does, that a wife must be a miracle worker who can run a home on air. Widowers are proverbially good providers. And having had experience of women's moods and tempers, they are able to distinguish between temper and nerves. They know enough not to argue when a woman wakes up with a jumping headache, and have the sense to put on their hats and make a sneak of it when she ties up her head and starts in on a day's cleaning.

THE EMPIRE'S MOST POWERFUL LOCOMOTIVE—Canada's newest queen of the rails is this sleek stream-styled Selkirk type locomotive which has just been built for the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is one of the 10 new T-1-B locomotives designed by H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock, Canadian Pacific Railway, to power heavy passenger and freight trains in the Rocky Mountains. They are a further development of 20 locomotives of the same type which were built in 1929 and which have given efficient service between Field and Revelstoke. The heaviest and most powerful now doing duty in the British Empire, the engine alone weighs 447,000 pounds and is capable of developing 5,000 horse power.
